Pact Returning Shantung to China Announced; Rules Curbing Submarines, Poison Gas Adopted

Here's Text of Pledge to Slash World's Big Fleets

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The draft treaty for limitation of naval armament submitted today to the Senate by President Roosevelt is the first step toward a world-wide agreement to limit the size of the world's navies.

The treaty, which is the result of a series of negotiations between the United States and the United Kingdom, is the first of a series of treaties that will be submitted to the Senate for ratification. The first treaty will limit the size of the world's navies, and the second will limit the size of the world's air forces.

The treaty is a landmark in the history of international relations, and it is a step toward a world of peace and stability. It is a step toward a world where the great powers of the world are no longer engaged in a costly and destructive arms race.

The treaty is a step toward a world where the great powers of the world are no longer engaged in a costly and destructive arms race. It is a step toward a world where the great powers of the world are no longer engaged in a costly and destructive arms race.

... explanation of the purposes of the five contracting governments in reaching the agreements set forth:

Desiring to contribute to the maintenance of the general peace, and to reduce the burdens of competition in armament, and to have resolved, with a view to accomplishing these purposes, to conclude a treaty to limit their respective naval armament, and to those who have appointed as their plenipotentiaries—the names of the delegates of the powers follow.)

The treaty is divided in three chapters.

Chapter one contains the general language of the agreements, covered in twenty separate articles.

Scrapping Arrangements Drawn In Tabular Form.

Chapter two contains the detailed, specific agreements on naval matters, many of them in complicated tabular form, which amplify and complete the meaning of the general provisions of chapter one.

Chapter three is devoted to "miscellaneous provisions," and contains four additional articles of the treaty.

Chapter one is headed:

"General provisions relating to the limitation of naval armament."

Article one thereunder is merely the agreement to limit naval armament as provided in the treaty.

Tonnage and Vessels to Be Retained Are Specified.

Article two provides that the contracting powers may retain respectively capital ships specified in part one, chapter two. The ships thus named in part one are as follows:

UNITED STATES—Maryland, California, Tennessee, Idaho, New Mexico, Mississippi, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Nevada, New York, Texas, Arkansas, Wyomderer, King George V. Ajax, Centurion—Total tonnage, 550,450.

FRANCE—Bretagne, Lorraine, Provence, Paris, France, Jean Bart, Courbet, Iderot, Voltaire—Total tonnage, 311,170.

ITALY—Andre D'Carara, Galio, Duilio, Conte Di Cavour, Galeo, Cesare, Leonardo Da Vinci, Dante Alighieri, Roma, Napoli, Vittorio Emanuele, Regina Elena—Total tonnage, 182,980.

JAPAN—Mitsui, Nagato, Hanga, Ise, Yamashiro, Fu-So, Kikishima, Karuna, Hiyoi, Kongo—Total tonnage, 301,320.

All Other Ships Built Or Building to Be Junked.

Article two then provides that on the coming into force of the treaty, all other capital ships "built or building" by the five powers shall be disposed of as prescribed in chapter two, part two, the reference being to the extensive "rules for scrapping" which are "carried in the part two mentioned."

Article one then provides that in addition to the specified capital ships "the United States may complete and retain two ships of the West Virginia class now under construction," and, "on their completion, dispose of the North Dakota and Delaware under the scrapping rule of the Great Britain may, "in accordance with the replacement table" carried in chapter two, construct two new capital ships not to exceed 35,000 tons standard displacement each, and, "on their completion, dispose of the Thunderer, King George V. Ajax and Centurion under the scrapping rules."

Bound to Abandon Shipbuilding Programs.

Article three in the agreement binds the powers to "abandon their respective capital ship building."

Five-Power Navy Scrapping Compact Terms Approved; Sub Ruthlessness Banned; Poison Gas War Abolished

Sea Armament Competition Absolutely Ended, Hughes States; Principles of U. S. Proposal All Maintained

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CONTINENTAL HALL, WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A hectic open session which lasted almost four hours today saw the accomplishment of the great part of the work of the Washington conference and brought the three month parley to within sight of adjournment.

Today's history-making session saw three great international undertakings approved. They were:

1—The naval treaty between the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

2—A second treaty between the same powers abolishing poison gas in warfare and outlawing submarine attacks on merchant vessels.

3—The settlement of Shanghai between China and Japan.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO THE PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The three-hour session today of the Washington conference approved both a naval limitation treaty and the treaty outlawing submarine warfare against of the treaty embodying the arms conference agreements on submarine and chemical warfare follows:

British empire, France, Italy and Japan, hereinafter referred to as the signatory powers, desiring to make more effective the rules adopted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and non-combatants at sea in time of war, and desiring the use in war of notions of chivalry and humanity, have arrived to conclude a treaty to this effect and have appointed as their plenipotentiaries:

[Here are inserted the names of the plenipotentiaries of the signatory powers, who, after having communicated their full powers, found in good order and in good form, have agreed as follows:]

Section I.—The signatory powers declare that among the rules adopted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and non-combatants at sea in time of war, the following are to be deemed an established part of international law:

1.—A merchant vessel must be ordered to submit to visit and search to determine its character before it can be seized.

2.—A merchant vessel must not be attacked unless it refuse to submit to visit and search after warning, or proceed as directed after seizure.

3.—A merchant vessel must not be destroyed unless the crew and passengers have first been placed in safety.

4.—Different submarines are not under any circumstances exempt from the universal rules above within the jurisdiction of which he is operating.

SECTION IV.—The signatory powers recognize the practical impossibility of using submarines as commerce destroyers without violating, as they were violated in the war of 1864-1865, the requirements universally accepted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and non-combatants, and to the end that the prohibition of the use of submarines as commerce destroyers shall be universally accepted as a part of the law of nations that new and more effective prohibition as heretofore binding between themselves, and they invite all other nations to adhere thereto.

SECTION V.—The use in war of apophizing, poisonous or other chemicals and all analogous liquids, materials or devices, having justice of condemned by the public opinion of the civilized world as a prohibited form of such use having been declared in the treaties to which a majority of the civilized powers are parties, that this signatory powers are of the opinion that prohibition shall be international law, accepted as a part of international law, and binding alike the conduct of their as practice of nations, declare to be a part of the law of nations, even themselves, and they invite all other nations to adhere to the present treaty.

SECTION VI.—The signatory powers shall be ratified as constitutional in accordance with the powers and authorities of the signatory powers, and shall take such steps as shall take terms and is concerned. "The capital of the plan proposed, on the integrity of the American government had been placed."

Secretary Hughes, presenting the treaty, announced he would naval and it because copies had been not reported generally. He gave a detailed review of the some capital terms, and that the some capital American proposals and original plans, while changed in detail, had been adopted substantially, taining the integrity of the plan presented by the United States.

Secretary Hughes had been acquainted, and the spirit in which that proposal was made and in which it was reached, has dominated the entire negotiations, and brought about a virtually very successful conclusion."

PACT GOVERNED BY AMERICA'S PRINCIPLES.

There was applause when Hughes said that the United States retained the number of capital ships proposed on November 12, and that Great Britain, France and Germany, similarly, the latter with a limited number, the new battleship Mutsu. The effect of the retention of the Mutsu, Hughes continued, made necessary the program by the original American program by the dreadnaughts of the West Virginia class, completed and the battleships North Dakota and Delaware were scrapped.

In the American proposals, Hughes said, the word "displacement" had been governing. They were

1.—That all capital ships new building and contemplated should

And if a submarine cannot place at Washington of the United States. The government will transmit to each of the States of America a duly certified copy of the signature powers and of the certified deposit of the present treaty, in French and in English. The present shall remain deposited in the Legation of the government of the United States of America, and shall be transmitted by that government to each of the signatory powers as a duly certified copy of the present treaty and of its adherence thereto.

SECTION VII.—The government of the United States of America will transmit to each of the signatory powers a duly certified copy of the present treaty and of its adherence thereto.

Any non-signatory power may adhere to the present treaty by yielding an instrument of adherence to the government of the United States of America, which will thereupon transmit to each of the signatory powers a certified copy of each instrument of adherence.

Done in faith whereof, the above-named plenipotentiaries have signed the present treaty.

Done at the City of Washington, the _____ day of January, O. The _____ Year One Hundred and twenty.

That there should be a further reduction of the naval armament by scrapping older ships.

—That regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers.

—That capital ship tonnage should be used as a basis for determining proportions of auxiliary craft.

These four principles, Hughes said, had been applied in negotiating the naval treaty and had governed its agreements.

Japanese Move to Cut Army in Half

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—(International News Service).—The Japanese cabinet, third in importance, introduced in the House of Representatives a resolution calling for a reduction in the strength of the Japanese army, and a reduction of the Japanese navy to the extent of one-half.

The cabinet, headed by the Seiyuukai political party, is considering reductions separately, but has not yet decided whether to reduce the Japanese army.

NOT DEFENDS
STAND OF FRANCE
ON NAVAL TREATY

Envoy Says Nation Worked
Conscientiously to Rid World of Scourge.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (By the Associated Press).—A defense of France's naval position was voiced by M. Sarraut, head of the French delegation, during the closing period of today's plenary session of the armament conference.

Sarraut spoke in French, saying that France had worked conscientiously to rid the world of the scourge of war.

"The French did not try to disassemble the armament conference," he said, "but to bring about a new era of peace and security. We have worked for the disarmament of the world, and we have succeeded in bringing about a new era of peace and security."

Sarraut emphasized that the French did not try to disassemble the armament conference, but to bring about a new era of peace and security. We have worked for the disarmament of the world, and we have succeeded in bringing about a new era of peace and security.

Here's Treaty Scrapping World's Biggest Fleets
And Providing Naval Holiday for Fifteen Years

All New Capital Ships
Limited to 35,000 Tons.

Article five fixes the 35,000-ton capital ship maximum displacement for any ships which shall be acquired by, or constructed by, for or within the jurisdiction of, any of the contracting powers.

Article six says no capital ship shall carry a gun with a caliber in excess of sixteen inches.

Article seven fixes the total tonnage of aircraft carriers at:

United States, 135,000.
British Empire, 135,000.
France, 175,000.
Italy, 175,000.
Japan, 181,000.

Article eight provides that replacement of aircraft carriers be effected only as prescribed in chapter two, part three, but specifies that such tonnage built or building before November 1921 be regarded as experimental and replaceable without regard to the age of the ships.

Aircraft Carriers Not To Exceed 27,000 Tons.

Article nine provides that no aircraft carrier exceeding 27,000 tons shall be acquired by, or constructed by, for or within the jurisdiction of any of the contracting powers, except that each of the powers may, within the tonnage ratio limitations, construct not more than two carriers of a maximum of 33,000 tons each or may convert war craft otherwise to be scrapped into such carriers, in order to effect economy. Armament of carriers exceeding 27,000 tons, however, is limited to a total of eight guns of more than six-inch caliber per ship.

Article ten provides that no carrier shall carry a gun heavier than eight-inch caliber. It provides also, without prejudice to Article nine, that reference to the limit of eight-inch guns per ship for the 33,000-ton carriers for a permissible total of ten guns if the armament contains no guns exceeding six inches in caliber. If the armament contains no guns exceeding six inches in caliber, the number of guns is not limited. It is provided also that the number of anti-aircraft guns or of guns not exceeding five-inch caliber is not limited.

10,000 Tons Limit on Auxiliary Vessels.

Article eleven provides that no warship exceeding 10,000 tons displacement, other than a capital ship, aircraft carrier, shall be built or acquired within the jurisdiction of the contracting powers. A provision that vessels not specifically built as fighting ships nor taken in time

Ships Replaced in 20 Years From Completion.

Part three of chapter two is the replacement provision for capital ships and aircraft carriers and contained in two sections.

Section one provides the general rule that such ships may be replaced twenty years from the date of their completion, or of replacement ships to be laid not earlier than seventeen years after such date of completion, and it is further provided that with the exception of the British Empire ships provided for and the replacement building in specified years by France and Italy, no capital ship tonnage shall be laid down until ten years from November 12, 1921.

It also is provided that the names, date of authorization, date of keel laying, displacement and principal dimensions of ships to be replaced and similar information as to ships planned to replace them be communicated promptly to all contracting powers.

In case of accidental loss or destruction of ships replacement construction may begin immediately, subject to the restrictions of size, armament, etc., imposed by the treaty.

The replacement rules provide for an increase of displacement of retained capital ships or carriers not to exceed 500 tons per ship to cover additional defense against air and submarine attacks such as bulge or armor or anti-air attack deck protection.

Armament Alterations Banned in Replacements.

They also forbid any alterations in armor or armament except that France and Italy, within the 3000-ton additional displacement limit, may increase their armor and the caliber of main batteries of existing ships up to the maximum of sixteen-inch weapons and that Great Britain may complete armor alterations on ships already started, but temporarily suspended.

Section two contains the replacement charts on capital ships for each nation.

The American chart has a provision permitting retention of the old battleships Oregon and Illinois "for non-combatant purposes" after they have been rendered incapable of warlike service.

Outside of the retention in 1923 of two ships of the West Virginia class to replace the Delaware and North Dakota no capital ship replacement building could be undertaken by the United States until 1931, when, under the chart, two keels would be laid followed by two in 1932, one in 1933, two in 1934, two in 1935, two in 1936, two in 1937, two in 1938 and two in 1939. All of these ships would be completed in 1942.

U. S. S. California Would Be Scrapped in 1941.

This replacement program would call for the scrapping of the Florida, Utah and Wisconsin in 1941, the Maryland in 1942, the Pennsylvania in 1943, the Arizona in 1944, the Texas in 1945, the Oklahoma in 1946, the New Mexico in 1947, the Colorado in 1948, the Nevada in 1949, the Maryland in 1950, the Pennsylvania in 1951, the Arizona in 1952, the Texas in 1953, the Oklahoma in 1954, the New Mexico COUNTY DIVISION SCORED BY MORE ORGANIZATIONS

Unit of United Veterans and Ashby Club Join Fight to Prevent Split.

Added to the growing number of organizations, which are going on record in opposition to county division, are the United Veterans of the Republic, Quentia Roosevelt, and the Ashby Community Club, and the Ashby Community Club, which have adopted resolutions setting forth their position.

County division, the United Veterans of the Republic say, will result in disaster, politically, commercially and socially to the cities and towns concerned and to the county of Alameda, will impose an unrepresentative form of government on the city of Oakland and will prevent the city from exercising its full powers.

The ex-service men in the organization recorded their opposition to the division plan and offered their services and resources in combating it.

The Ashby Community Club is no less emphatic in the voting of its objections to division.

YOUTH AID FIGHT.
Following is the resolution adopted by the United Veterans Unit:

Whereas, Certain individuals and interests are endeavoring to create a City and County of Oakland from territory comprising the cities of Oakland and Piedmont and the town of Emeryville, which has heretofore been an integral part of the county of Alameda;

Whereas, The citizens of Emeryville and Piedmont have overwhelmingly rejected such a movement, and are endeavoring to prevent merger in the fall of 1934;

Whereas, It is believed that the proposed secession is contrary to the best interests of the cities and towns concerned and of the county of Alameda;

Whereas, We believe that such a movement, if successful, will result in disaster politically, commercially and socially to the cities and towns concerned and to the county of Alameda; and that it will impose an unrepresentative form of government on the city of Oakland and that it will tend to raise taxes throughout the present limits of Alameda county without any adequate compensation therefore;

Resolved, That we, the ex-service men, forming the membership of the Unit No. 15, United Veterans of the Republic, do place ourselves

More Taxpayers Join in Fight to Beat Division

A city and county of Oakland means that the smaller area of Oakland, Piedmont and Emeryville will have to support both a city and a county government, and that the burden will be made heavier for the loss of supporting strength of $101,000,000 of assessed property.

This conclusion and others are reached today by voters who have added their protest to the scheme to split Alameda county into three counties.

Some of the outstanding statements which indicate the feeling against division in all parts of the city follow:

"I am opposed to county division because it means higher taxes."

"From being the poorest Alameda county has come to be the best in the care of indigents and sick."

"The creation of three counties where there is only one, cannot mean anything but disaster."

"Oakland will suffer if the plan goes through. We should defeat it and hold ourselves in readiness to welcome any consolidation that is consolidation and not disruption."

"Do your part in protecting your city and yourself by voting 'No'."

OPPOSED TO DIVISION.
Some of the citizens who added their voices to the existing chorus of those who would prevent division are quoted in the following letters and interviews:

W. R. Whitthorne of Whitthorne & Swan's Department Store—I am in favor of the consolidation of the Eastbay, but am bitterly opposed to the present plan, which means county division and which would prevent any real consolidation. The only result, if the election carried, will be to split Alameda county into three parts. This has been the plan since the movement started. Oakland on record as being opposed to such division and that we do hereby offer the services and resources of our organization in combating such division to the Alameda Anti-Division Committee to be used as they shall see fit.

W. M. STRATTON, Commander.

CLUB OPPOSES DIVISION.
The communication from the Ashby Community Club of Berkeley is as follows:

The Ashby Community Club, having acquainted themselves sufficiently to past dismemberment of the county of Alameda, do, at its regular meeting, held Monday evening, January 30, resolve as follows:

Resolved, That we oppose county division. The establishment of a city and county of Oakland, inclusive of the city of Piedmont and the town of Emeryville, is against the wishes of the last two municipalities, and will impose a great hardship upon the residents of Piedmont and Emeryville, inasmuch as their tax rate is concerned. And that the establishment of a new county, to be known as Oakland, may bring about the paying of an additional street car fare from Berkeley to Oakland.

And that the cost of new public buildings would be enormous. And would furnish an opportunity for the public utility corporations to offer argument for higher rates by the Railroad Commission; and be it further

Resolved, That many other causes in the proposed charter are an infringement upon the rights of the people, all of which will be unfair and added expense; and be it further

Resolved, That the club go on record against establishment of a City and County of Oakland, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Oakland Tribune and the Berkeley Daily Gazette, and also to the headquarters of the Anti-Division League of Alameda County.

SPLIT IN COUNTY WOULD BE COSTLY, SAYS JOHN GELDER

Declares Men Who Now Advocate Division Don't Figure Losses.

"What will the Chamber of Commerce have to exhibit of the wonderful resources of Alameda county after we have segregated Oakland from the other fifteen-sixteenths of the county?" asked John Gelder, the speaker of the evening at an open meeting of the B'nai B'rith at Covenant hall last night. He alleged that the move would not result in the reduction of taxes, as had been asserted by the divisionists.

"The gentlemen with whom I had the pleasure of debating the proposed scheme at the last election advocated the consolidation of city and county government to eliminate offices and thereby to reduce the tax rate. The same gentlemen are now advocating division of Alameda county and creation of three counties and three cities of county and also advocate the reduction of taxes by creating more officials. They are not sincere, for if they were right on the first election, they surely are wrong now. And if they are right now, they were surely wrong then."

"The manager appoints every political officer now elected by the people except the district attorney, sheriff, assessor and judges. Just think of the autocratic power placed in the hands of one man. It is too un-American to contemplate. Where will the tolling masses except the people? What chance will the people have which they exercise no control has the power of appointing the sheriff and the chief of police, who are responsible to him only?"

"The merchants of the city of Oakland would suffer in their business if the county was divided. The business generally follows a county seat and if the traction company, which takes advantage of the city, could charge a cent more whenever you cross the county line. The merchants could not hope to retain their business because the people would not pay two or three cents to trade with our Oakland merchants."

"Who will keep up our county roads? Is it fair to place the burden of maintenance of the county roads on the new county that would be incorporated comprising all of the Livermore Valley, Pleasanton, Niles, Mission San Jose, and all that country to assess themselves to keep the county roads in good shape? The benefit of the county roads will be received by you merchants receive the benefit of good roads. It would be folly to cut your nose to spite your face."

Girl Hikers Will Hold Benefit Party

The first of a series of benefit parties will be given tonight at the Franklin Theater by the Romney club, the hiking organization of the city.

The Romney club, which has been undertaking to furnish a room in the Frances E. Willard home for working girls in Twelfth street in memory of the late Miss Helen J. Romney, has been undertaking to furnish a room in the Frances E. Willard home for working girls in Twelfth street in memory of the late Miss Helen J. Romney.

A towel and pillow shower for the memorial room will feature the regular business meeting on Friday night at the home of Mrs. L. A. and Virginia C. 841 Apper street. The room will be furnished in story, with green carpet and appointments in pink.

Miss Birdie Pilcher, secretary of the club, is making a tour of Southern California. Information relating to the organization may be obtained from the president, Mrs. Annie Hayward, 426 Lester avenue.

Lura Walton, talented California dramatist, whose plays for juveniles have been appearing in national magazine, has been induced by The Oakland Tribune to write a series of children's plays. These sketches are simple and easy of production and there is nothing like them in the market. The first, "The Treasure of the Valley," will appear in The Tribune Magazine Sunday.

Why Have Gray Hair or Dandruff?
Nourishine will restore your hair to original color whether black, brown or blond. Removes dandruff. Prevents falling hair and promotes growth. Cleanses the scalp. Harmless and pleasant to use. No longer is it necessary for you to have gray hair which handicaps you socially and in business.

Nourishine
Positively Not a Dye

Nourishine is a real tonic which feeds and restores the hair, restoring it to its original vitality. It is used and endorsed by thousands of men and women. As a dandruff remover it is worth many times the price asked. One bottle usually is sufficient. Department stores at $1.25 per bottle. Woman Blamed by Her Family
Restless, irritable, nervous, excitable and existing in a charge against her by those nearest and dearest. How little they realize the struggle the overworked wife and mother is making to keep about and perform the hundred and one duties which devolve upon her! Every hour her headaches, backaches and pains drag her down until she can stand it no longer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more women in this condition to health and happiness than any other medicine. The grateful letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have found health by its use prove it.—Advertisement.

Sentiment Strong Against Division
James A. Dragotovich, one of the leaders in social, literary and athletic activities among the citizens of Yugoslav origin, has addressed nine fraternal and athletic associations during the last few days on the proposed to divide Alameda county and set up the separate city and county of Oakland. He reports a strong sentiment against the scheme, membership of these societies being strongly impressed with the bad business situation through

BOY, 8, FIGHTS DOG TO PROTECT SCHOOL GIRLS

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Michael Epipolito, 8 years old, fought off a savage dog which attacked three little girls on the street yesterday. Schoolbooks were his weapons. The dog finally got him on the ground and he was bitten about the head and face, but will recover. "My father always told me to protect women," the boy knight said as they took him home. "He didn't hurt me very badly." The little girls, badly frightened, escaped injury.

ALAMEDA COUNTY WATER FOR S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Alameda county may help furnish the water supply of San Francisco. At a meeting of the supervisors' public utilities committee yesterday it was decided to prepare a contract between this city and the Spring Valley Water company for the construction of a pipe line which will bring 24,000,000 gallons of water daily into San Francisco from the company's source in Alameda county. Since the exposition it has been impossible to obtain any water from across the bay.

The present project is that the city shall build the section of its proposed Hetch Hetchy system lying between the town of Irvington in Alameda county and the Crystal Spring lake in San Mateo county. The Spring Valley Water company must deliver the additional 24,000,000 at Irvington and pay the city a rental equivalent to 5% per cent on the cost of the investment that the city must make.

VETERAN LONELY TO BUY HOMES MADE BY STATE

Twenty-four Applications of Ex-Service Men Approved
by Board.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—The State Veterans' Welfare Board, in session here, approved the claims of twenty-four wounded California veterans for aid under the farm and home purchase act passed by the last legislature.

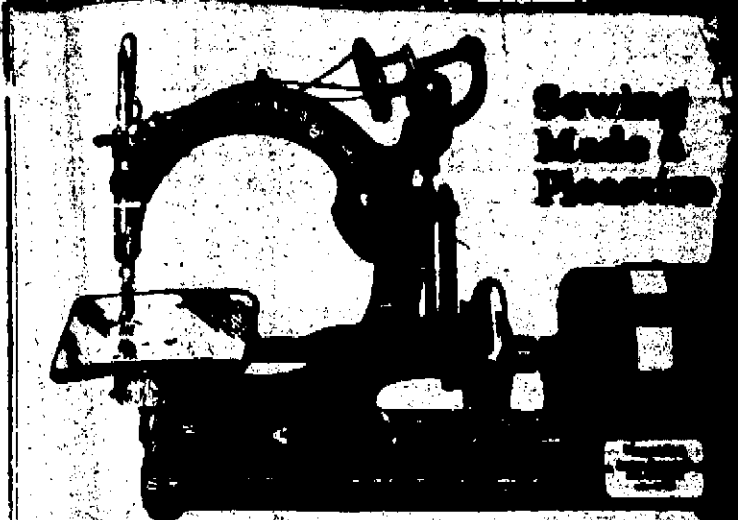

Each of the awards, however, is subject to reversal in the event a personal examination of the applicant fails to corroborate statements made in his application for assistance.

The twenty-four men whose applications were approved will be the first in the state to receive loans with which to purchase either homes or farms and the action of the veterans' board marks the opening of active administration of this phase of the state aid program for former service men.

The names of the successful applicants will not be made public until they have been summoned before the board for personal examination.

Robert F. Smith, secretary, declared that the majority of those made today were men desiring to secure homes.

COALVILLE, Eng., Feb. 1.—The local authorities have received more than 300 applications to adopt a 2-year-old boy deserted here and now in the almshouse.

The Different Sewing Machine

This electric sewing machine is made like no other sewing machine. It has certain features all its own.

For instance, it has no bobbins to wind. There is no stopping in the middle of seams, no delay when you wish to change threads.

And there are no tensions to regulate.

This machine just sews. You don't have to be "doing something to it" all the time.

It is a finely built, slow motion machine, with its own direct-drive motor, which doesn't hum or fuse.

You can have one today. Easy payments. Call and see.

MAY WE DEMONSTRATE IT IN YOUR HOME?

REFUNDING BILL EXPECTED SOON

Measure Is Passed in Senate
by Vote of 39 to 25; One Amendment Tabled.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. — Early adjournment of the differences between the Senate and House measure to authorize the refunding of the eleven billion dollar foreign debt was looked for today following passage of the Senate bill. Three Republicans, E. A. Tamm, Charles McNary and Charles McNary, joined with the solid Democratic minority in opposing the bill put through the Senate last night by a vote of 39 to 25, giving authority to a commission of five members, headed by the secretary of the treasury, to refund the foreign debt into securities maturing in not more than 25 years.

The bill as passed was amended by a provision stipulating that the interest on the refunded debt be not less than four and one-quarter per cent. Among the amendments which failed of adoption was that offered by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, proposing to add to the measure a soldier's bonus provision with the cost of the five-year adjusted compensation to be paid out of the interest on the foreign debt. Over the protest of Democrats a motion was carried to table the amendment.

After passing the refunding measure, the Senate adjourned until tomorrow.

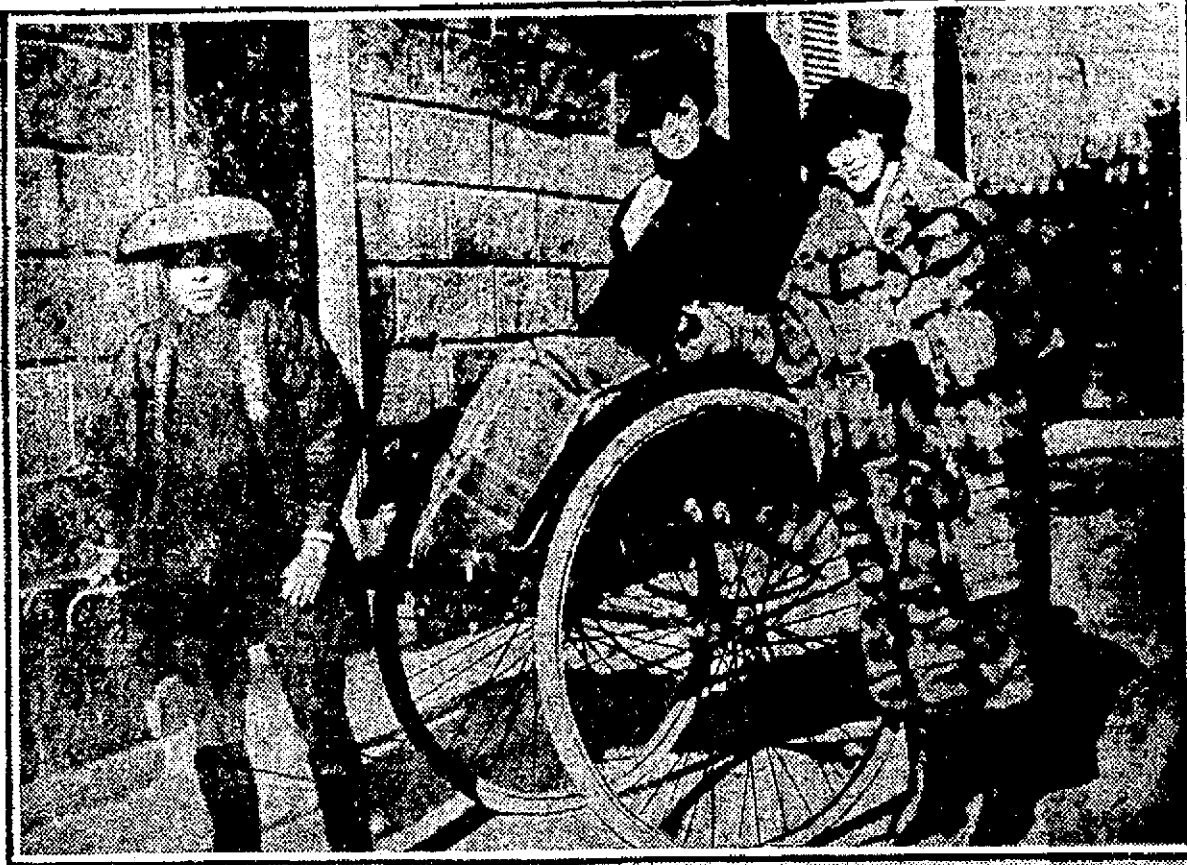

Americans of Turkey In Friendly Society

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 1.—Dr. William W. Peet, who was recently appointed League of Nations commissioner here, has been elected president of the Association for Friendly Relations in the Near East, just organized in this city. Dr. Peet has long been one of the chief representatives of American missionary interests in Turkey.

Rear Admiral Mark Bristol, American high commissioner, is honorary chairman of the society. In an inaugural address, he expressed the hope that this movement marked the beginning of an effort that might result in great good in this part of the world. He said that the association would be dedicated to a study of the art of cultivating friendly relations, social, religious, commercial and political between individuals, communities and nations. It was a big task, he added.

TRUNK RIFTED, ROOZE STOLEN. A quart of whisky and a quart of brandy were stolen from a trunk belonging to Dr. A. E. Dilley, which he left in the store room of the Hotel Vernon. He told Police Inspector Joe Robinson that on November 23 he left his trunk in the store room, telling the manager that he was going to sea. When he returned yesterday he found that the trunk had been broken open.

Two American Women Escape Capture By Chinese Pirates on Shan-Se River

MRS. F. D. WHITE, daughter-in-law of Dr. White, former United States ambassador, and MRS. RUTH TIMM, who had a thrilling experience with buccaners during their travels in China. Mrs. White is sitting in the ricksha and Mrs. Timm is standing at the side. The picture was taken in China shortly after their adventure.

Fate of Being Held for Ransom Is Avoided by United States Travelers

Being chased down the Shan-Se river in China by a junk of Chinese pirates, and to narrowly escape capture, is a sensation that comes but once in a lifetime, according to beautiful Mrs. Ruth Timm, who is at the Hotel St. Francis, where she related her exciting experiences in interior China.

Mrs. Timm is the wife of a Los Angeles business man, and accompanied her husband to China. While her husband was transacting business in Shanghai, Mrs. Timm visited various parts of China, and went further inland than is safe these days for Caucasians.

Mrs. Timm brings the first word received in San Francisco, of the capture by Chinese pirates of an American employee of the British-American Tobacco Company, named Howard. Howard is being held by the pirates for ransom, she states, and the European residents of Shanghai and the other treaty ports entertain grave fears for his life. Mrs. Timm said:

"Mr. Howard, who is employed by the British-American Tobacco Company, was captured some two months ago by pirates on the Shan-se river, and the party in which I traveled narrowly escaped a similar fate. When I eventually reached a haven of comparative safety I was warmly congratulated by the Americans and other white residents on my lucky escape, and was told that my chances of escape had been but one in ten. In fact, had I been one day ahead of my schedule, I would have shared Mr. Howard's fate. At one time we were between two fires—pirates upstream and downstream—and our escape was miraculous."

CONDITIONS CHAOTIC.

"Conditions in China are so chaotic as a result of the civil war that the Chinese pirates are 'sailing the main' almost as boldly as did the buccaners of old. They hold up slow steamers and board them with the utmost audacity, either in the open sea, along the coast, or in the rivers."

"Only recently, half way on the Chinese coast between Shanghai and Hong Kong, a steamer of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Company was forced by a fleet of Chinese pirates to put back to port. Another smaller and slower steamer was not so fortunate. It was held up by the pirates, the officers and crew were locked in the cabin and the vessel was ransacked from one end to another. The cargo was loaded into a large fleet of sampans by the pirates, and transferred to some spot on the coast. In the meantime the war-junk of the pirates remained alongside, and it was only after signals from the shore announced that the sampans had delivered their loot that the pirates left the vessel and that the crew were able to free themselves."

FLOOD DISTRICTS.

Mrs. Timm also visited the regions of interior China that suffered so severely through last year's floods. She witnessed the pitiful suffering of the famine-stricken population, and speaks highly of the work of the American relief expedition. She also visited Harbin, and has this to say concerning Japanese penetration so far inland:

"Though they have not a single claim to it, Harbin is now practically a Japanese possession. The Japanese have established a number of banks in Harbin, with the definite purpose of getting mortgages on the entire city and territory. The Russians in Harbin are all 'broke,' and are in most cases anxious to sell out to the Japanese entirely, or to take Japanese money on mortgage. The Japanese are only too willing to accommodate them. This is probably the only instance in history where a town has been acquired by a foreign power through mortgage."

From China Mrs. Timm proceeded to Japan. She visited every province of Nippon in the company of Mrs. F. D. White, daughter-in-law of Dr. White, former United States ambassador to Germany and Russia. Mrs. Timm arrived at Seattle on one of the Empress steamers of the C. P. R. Her husband has preceded her, and she will join him in Los Angeles.

200,000 Lives Saved Annually

Public Health Drive, on Since 1900,
Saves Each Year Lives of Enough
People to Populate a Big City

If the group of American men, women and children, whose lives the public health drive, started in 1900, saved during the year just past were placed together in one community, they would form a busy, happy, prosperous city of approximately 200,000 population.

This stupendous result has been accomplished in many ways, most important among them being the study, development and popularization of ideas and methods of sanitation by men who have made this work their life business.

So the death-rate from tuberculosis alone has been reduced 73 per cent per 100,000 and similar results have been achieved with other diseases.

The plumbing industry, on with a large part of the responsibility of this work of saving lives by increasing sanitation has fallen, is justly proud of the part it has played in this great project.

But the end is not yet in sight. The public health drive continues unabated, for more and more can be saved each year as its ideas, ideals and methods spread.

Do YOUR part this year to help the public health workers raise the total of lives saved.

Careful consideration of the plumbing facilities in the place you rent, build or buy and the proper maintenance of it after you move in is one way you can help the drive and safeguard your family's health and happiness.

Go to a plumbing expert for accurate information and thoughtful advice. Learn what is newest and best in plumbing a home. Learn, for example, why science has determined that there should be a complete bathroom outfit for every four people in the house (servants' quarters separate, of course.)

Get the plumbing right THIS YER—even if something else has to wait. Delay is often costly and dangerous. Remember, too, that plumbing prices are down 30 to 40 per cent below what they were a year ago.

INMATES TO JAPAN FULL OF HOME- BOUND JAPANESE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—What seems like a back to Japan movement of the Japanese in Southern California, noted in Los Angeles newspapers at various times in the last six months, was continued from Los Angeles with the departure of the Japanese liner Asama Maru, bound direct to the Orient.

Several hundred Japanese, mostly women and children, were aboard the Asama Maru.

There has been no explanation of the fact that practically every Japanese leaving Los Angeles for Japan has been crowded with children.

ACTIVITIES WOMEN

Travelers to Depart for Orient Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Houdlette will sail this month for Shanghai, China, for an indefinite visit. They have been residents of the Far East before, so that this will not be their initial visit to that part of the world. Before their departure a round of parties is planned, one of which took place Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Hollister Maguire. Her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cabot Capwell Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Houdlette, Donald Baker, who shared the honors with Mr. and Mrs. Houdlette; Miss Louise Lofgren, Miss Jeanette Lamping, Joseph Rosborough and George Wilhelm.

Thursday evening Mrs. Maguire will entertain at a buffet supper-dance at her home, a score to share her hospitality and to meet Mr. and Mrs. Houdlette and Mr. Baker.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Cabot Capwell Jr. have planned an affair at Kellon Court, which they are occupying in the absence of the Capwells Sr.

Art Renaissance Is Promised by Women's Clubs

By EDNA B. RINARD.

A renaissance of art is promised in Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. M. H. Lapham, chairman. The afternoon inaugurated a series of round tables designed to bring together the clubwomen at present interested in art, with the thought that the movement might reach out to include many others who have not given to their interest definite expression. The purpose is entirely to cement and make vocal that fine feeling which is dormant in every woman of culture and to translate it into beauty which shall be for the benefit of the community.

Mrs. Lapham opened her first round table today for the initial round table, which included among the guests members of art sections in the Federated clubs which have such study groups. The program was contributed by the visitors. Mrs. R. S. Holway, Berkeley, state chairman of art, was the guest of honor. She presented an informal talk on the "Early Spanish Masters." Adolphus club of Alameda was responsible for the music, contributing a quartet and soloists.

An exhibit of canvases from the brush of Mrs. J. V. Cannon, shown at the Twentieth Century club, earlier in the month, was the contribution of the Berkeley club. Mrs. Lapham, herself, represented Rockridge club.

As art sections are added in the local clubs the members will be included in the round tables, which will occur each month throughout the club year.

California Writers' club members will be guests of honor on Saturday of the Speech Arts Association, celebrating a California poets' program. The association, whose membership is made up largely from Eastbay men and women, will entertain in the Sorosis club of San Francisco. Fred Emerson Brooks and Harry Noyes Pratt, local writers, will represent the living poets. Herr Wagner, president of the Sequoyah club, will give the address of the day.

The unemployment situation, as it exists in Oakland, will be considered at the luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's club in their Broadway headquarters tomorrow. Miss Elizabeth Skeels, executive secretary of the Association of Charities, will be the speaker. Mrs. Gladys Barnard, president, will preside.

A patriotic program is announced by the Adelphi club for tomorrow afternoon. Dr. Rudolph I. Coffee, rabbi of Temple Sinai, will speak on "The New Social Order." The University of California Glee Club quartet will offer the music. Mrs. Frank E. Weeks, a past president, will be hostess.

The arguments against county division and the advisability of voting "No" at Tuesday's election, will be considered tomorrow by the Frick School Parent-Teacher association. H. L. Mugoon will be the speaker. Those who took the awards at the Saturday night festivities of the club were A. M. Gonsalves and Ullala Gonsalves.

Mrs. J. E. Squires, recording secretary of Oakland Federation of Mothers Clubs, addressed the Robert W. Beach School Parent-Teacher association today. Benefits to the school derived from the co-operation of parents and teachers were outlined. Children of the third grade furnished the music.

Bed socks and patch work squares for baby comforts were made by the busy fingers of Durant school mothers at the last meeting of the parent-teacher association. The generous stock will be supplied when it is most needed. The work of Arroyo sanitarium was described by a representative from the county hospital while the mothers worked.

Elmas for the children at Arroyo will be made at the next social meeting.

on Alameda avenue in honor of Mills and her close friends.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hahman, well known in the War Camp Community service, departed today for the east. At New York she will join a party of friends with whom she will make a tour of Europe and the Holy Land, the trip lasting several months.

High noon yesterday was the hour set for the marriage of Mrs. Fredrick Hink and George Howard Robinson, the ceremony taking place at the home of Mrs. Hink on Ellita avenue. Members of the two families were witnesses to the service, which was read by Rev. W. E. H. Hodgkin of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Berkeley. The bride wore a smart gown of beige crepe with hat to match. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Carolyn Smith was maid of honor and wore a gown of blue cloth. Ronald Robinson was best man for his brother.

A wedding breakfast was served following the service, and today the couple sailed for the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Robinson is daughter of Mrs. Louise Brown of San Francisco.

Robinson is a son of Mrs. William Howard Robinson of Berkeley, and has received his degree from the University of California. He is a Delta Upsilon fraternity man.

Mrs. Smith Crowder of Piedmont was hostess this afternoon at her home in compliment to Mrs. Robert Sharon and Mrs. Shelby Tuttle, two young matrons who are visiting in the city. Mrs. Tuttle is at present the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Shook and Mrs. Sharon is visiting her kinsfolk here.

BETROTHAL TOLD AT LUNCHEON.

The betrothal of Miss Hatherly Brittain and William Ellis was announced yesterday afternoon at a luncheon of the bride-elect at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brittain on Blair avenue. Miss Brittain is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gerrill. She was graduated from Ransom's school, and later attended the University of California. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Ellis is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Ellis of Piedmont, and a member of the class of '17 at Harvard university. He served overseas. Miss Elizabeth Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tobey Ellis, is his cousin.

INFORMAL LUNCHEONS PLANNED.

This afternoon Mrs. Paul Dinsmore is entertaining informally at luncheon at her home in Piedmont for a group of intimate friends. It is one of a series of similar affairs.

Miss Angelina Searis, betrothed of Theodore Michels, is to be the motif for a luncheon Saturday afternoon, February 11, when Miss Beatrice Ellsworth will entertain at her home in Piedmont.

Friday, February 10, is the date set for a luncheon which Mrs. Marjorie Cutting will give at her Claremont home and a dozen of her most intimate friends will be assembled about the dainty table. Bridge will be the diversion. In the evening Mrs. Woolley will give several such affairs for different coteries of friends.

Miss Elma Ramsellus of Alameda, the fiancée of Russell Ellison, will be married the latter part of this month and is to be entertained extensively within the coming fortnight. Miss Irma Botts of Claremont was hostess Saturday in honor of the bride-elect, and Miss Both Schilling and Miss Gertrude Ramsellus were receiving with the hostess.

Miss Alma Tobriner of Alice street will entertain Saturday at bridge and 4 o'clock tea, and on February 11, Mrs. W. O. Lang will be hostess at the St. Francis hotel.

Mrs. Charles Tisdale of Alameda avenue, Alameda, has sent out cards for a bridge tea to be given at her home Friday afternoon, when she has bidden several score to meet Mrs. Charles Okell, who is home from the Orient. Mrs. Okell and Mrs. Louis James, who accompanied Mrs. Okell, are to be luncheon hostesses at the Woman's Athletic club over the bay the afternoon of February 9.

INVITATIONS OUT FOR WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Uel Mills have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Olive Uel, and Ray Edwin Chaffield for Tuesday evening, February 21, at 8:30 o'clock in Christ Episcopal church, Alameda. Rev. Henry H. Shires, rector, will officiate.

Miss Ruth Chaffield, sister of the bride-elect, is to be the only attendant upon the bride.

Miss Mills is a Gamma Phi Beta at the University of California, and a large number of the guests will include her sorority sisters.

To the regret of her friends the bride will go to Vancouver, British Columbia, to make her home following her marriage.

Saturday afternoon Miss Hilda Van Brunt will give a bridge at her home.

THE POWER OF ADVERTISING IS TOLD AD. CLUB

Arthur Ross Tells How Newspaper Campaigns Should Be Conducted.

Advertising is a selling force of tremendous power when rightly applied.

This was the message delivered to the members of the Oakland Advertising Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday by Arthur Ross, advertising manager of the Paraffine Company, Inc., of San Francisco, who spoke on "The Organization of Selling and Advertising Efforts."

Ross demonstrated the method of instruction used to educate the salesmen on the value of the right kind of advertising. He addressed the audience as he would have spoken to an assembly of salesmen. It was announced at yesterday's luncheon that the San Francisco Advertising Club will hold its annual dance at the Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco on the evening of February 8. The local club purchased 40 tickets to the affair.

A musical program was provided for Friday's luncheon by Eugene Pignatelli, well-known musician, who has just returned from a successful tour of the South American continent. He was accompanied by Miss Angela Ringford.

Students to Seek Fund for Stanford
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 1. The "First Million for Stanford" drive now being organized on the university campus and before the week's end every undergraduate at the university will be a charter member.

Further evidence of student support of the drive was made today of a pageant in which every one of the 500 women enrolled in Stanford will participate. The proceeds of this pageant are to be devoted to the endowment fund.

It is proposed to hold the pageant on alumni day and make this the occasion for the greatest home-coming of Stanford alumni in the history of the university. Miss Anne Harris, chairman of the women's central committee, has been named director of the pageant. Miss Mary Y. Dean of women, is in charge of the committee to develop the plot of the pageant.

Plans Made for Valentine Party Saturday Night

MISS CORNELIA ARMOUR, who will be the "Queen of Hearts" at the Valentine party Saturday night under the auspices of the Alameda County Chiropractic Defenders' League.

Hearts-to-be Trumps at Affair Given in Wigwam Hall.

The principal "cards" in a regular deck of cards have completed arrangements for the holding next Saturday night of the Valentine party and dance at the Wigwam hall, Pacific building, Sixteenth and Jefferson streets, under the auspices of the Alameda County Chiropractic Defenders' League.

Many novel "stunts" in which will be the suggestion of playing cards have been arranged by the following committee:

Harold Everhart, Ace of Hearts; Mrs. A. Terry, Right Bower; Mrs. S. West, Left Bower; J. R. Arnold, Jack of Diamonds; Miss Cornelia Armour has been selected by the committee as the "queen of hearts" to preside over the revels. Mrs. Terry has been chosen as the "patron" to her majesty. The identity of the "king of hearts" will be announced the evening of the dance.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau Information
"When calla lilies freeze down to the ground should they be cut off even with the ground to make them bloom again?" queries a TRIBUNE reader.

Calla lilies really require no care in this climate. They will grow and bloom just the same whether you cut them or not. North Berkeley callas seemed not to be affected by the recent snow.

"When was the last race run on the Emeryville race track?" The last race run there was on February 18, 1911. A law prohibiting gambling on races was passed in 1909, and amended in 1911 so that race tracks were forced out of existence.

"What code is used in wireless telegraphy?" The Continental code.

EPISCOPALIANS IN SECOND DAY OF ANNUAL CONCLAVE

Transaction of Church Business Feature of Day; Sessions End Tomorrow

This morning's session of the Episcopal diocese of California, which is being held at the Grace Cathedral in San Francisco, was devoted to the transaction of the business of the convention. In the afternoon a joint session of the convention and the House of Bishops was held, where Bishop Edward L. Parsons delivered his annual address.

Reviewing the general conditions in the world, touching slightly on the disarrangement of the Washington conference and the religious effort to save the world of tomorrow, Bishop William Ford Nichols opened the convention yesterday morning.

During the afternoon the two branches of the convention, the clergy and laity and the House of Bishops, organized Bishop Parsons presided at the former meeting and Mrs. Harry M. Sherman, president of the House of Bishops, presided at the latter.

Rev. Harvey S. Hanson was elected as the secretary of the convention to succeed Rev. Frank H. Church.

At last night's session the convention was addressed by Rev. Thomas Jenkins, archbishop of Alaska, who told of the recent developments and their effect on the missionary work there.

Rev. Jenkins, in speaking of the political situation in Alaska, stated that there was little hope for the territory politically until the bureaucratic government had been replaced by a unified center of self-government, and that in place of the many bureaus there be one bureau established, which would centralize the work.

A united service, to be held at Grace Cathedral tomorrow evening, will conclude the convention.

EASTBAY PRICE OF MILK STANDS

There will be no further reduction of milk prices in the Eastbay district.

This was definitely announced today by the Milk Dealers' Association and the Milk Producers' Association.

The local announcement followed the decision of the San Francisco dealers to lower prices from 14 to 8 1/2 cents per quart and pint respectively to 13 and 8 delivered.

It was also announced by the grocery dealers' association that milk could be purchased at the stores for 12 and 8 cents.

Certified milk will be delivered at 23 cents a quart and 14 1/2 a pint.

According to the local dealers and producers, the San Francisco price has been in effect in Oakland for a year and there is no indication that it will be lowered.

Novena at St. Mary's Begins Tomorrow

A Novena to the Blessed Virgin, known as "Our Lady of Lourdes," will be started in St. Mary's church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The novena consists of a series of spiritual exercises and special prayers extending over a period of nine consecutive days.

St. Mary's has an exact reproduction of the famous grotto of Lourdes, where the particular devotion originated in the year 1858 as a consequence of several remarkable visions said to have been granted in that spot to the simple French peasant girl, Bernadette Soubirous.

Special masses will be celebrated each morning at 7 and 9 o'clock.

The evening devotion of the novena will begin at 8 o'clock and will consist of special prayers, a short sermon and benediction.

Tomorrow is also the feast of the Purification. The masses on that day will be held at 7 and 10 o'clock.

On Friday, which will be the feast of St. Blaise, the ceremony of the blessing of throats will be held after the 9 o'clock mass and also after the evening services.

JUDGE SENTENCES TWO.

Richard Bernstein pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny. He was sentenced to 30 days in the city prison.

According to the police he stole two handbags from Kahn's department store a week ago. Ira Quick, arrested on the same charge, also was given 30 days yesterday by the same judge.

Durant Acquires Rare Violin From Kreisler for $20,000

R. C. (CLIFF) DURANT, who has purchased a rare Guarneri violin from Fritz Kreisler for $20,000.

R. C. (Cliff) Durant is now the proud possessor of a Guarneri. Which means that Durant, a violin enthusiast, has procured one of those rare instruments made by Giuseppe Guarneri, famous among the violin makers of Cremona.

Durant obtained the instrument from Fritz Kreisler for a consideration of $20,000.

This marks a new record price for a Guarneri, the largest price heretofore on record being $25,000.

In addition to paying the big price, however, Durant had to go through an examination.

MUST APPRECIATE IT.

Kreisler has used the instrument for many years on his concert tours, and when he decided to sell it he made a provision.

The man who purchased the violin must be one who could appreciate it. Wherefore Durant was forced to go to Kreisler's residence in New York and demonstrate his skill as a violinist.

Satisfied that Durant could both play and pay, the instrument was moved west, where it is now one of the treasured relics in the Durant home.

PLAYS ON STRADAVARIUS.

In a letter to Durant, Kreisler said that he was disposing of the violin because he has recently become accustomed to playing his Stradavarius.

There is a difference of an inch in the width of the upper bouts of the two instruments. Used to one Kreisler said that he was not able to play the other as effectively.

Kreisler has had the Guarneri for many years, according to his letter to Durant. He obtained it from Tivador Mancher. The violin was made in Cremona in 1732.

Wife Shouted, Is Man's Divorce Plea

On the heels of testimony by William W. Dean that his wife, Mildred, had shouted so loudly at him that several apartment house landlords compelled him to move, she countered his attempt to obtain a divorce by introducing love letters which she said had been written him by Miss Margaret Mitchell of Mississippi.

In the letters, which were read in Superior Judge Koford's court, the writer addressed Dean as "Habe," said she was in love with him and declared she was waiting for him.

Mrs. Dean placed her 15-year-old daughter, Mildred, on the witness stand to corroborate her testimony that Dean had deserted her in Mississippi in 1918 to go away with Miss Mitchell.

Asks for Divorce On Cruelty Grounds

Asking custody of seven minor children, Mrs. Julia Swenson today filed suit for divorce against August Swenson, whom she charges with extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Swenson says that on a trip to Sweden in 1921 her husband unjustly accused her of intimacy with other men, and compelled her to return to the United States alone when they reached England. Later, she declared, after they had "made up," he refused to eat her food, saying it was poisonous.

The children of the couple, of all of whom Mrs. Swenson asks custody, include six boys and a girl, ranging in age from nineteen years to one and a half. She asks $100 a month for their support.

Bank Seeks $7500 Loan on Rice Crop

As an aftermath to the widespread collapse of the rice market two years ago, Superior Judge Koford today heard a suit of the Berkeley Bank of Savings and Trust company against the Arbockle Rice company.

The Arbockle company, which has a $7500 loan on a rice crop which, according to the bank officials, turned out to be worthless.

The money, the bank asserts, was loaned to the company for the purpose of raising its 1920 rice crop near Colusa. Before the crop matured the market broke, and the rice became of so little value that it was never harvested.

The Arbockle company was one of many hundreds throughout the state which lost the profits of preceding years in the collapse of the 1920 rice market.

The bank is asking payment of as much of the $7500 as the company can return, and a judgment against it for the rest.

AUTOISTS NEAR DEATH IN SNOW-STORM RESCUED

New Hunt for 15 Believed Marooned at Kelly's Is Started.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.

NEWMAN, Cal., Feb. 1.—A posse started from here today to search for Wesley Timin, 15, and Earl Stoeneyer, 15, of Newman, reported missing in the snow-covered Quinto Mountains country, thirty miles west of this place since Sunday morning.

The boys went into the mountains last Saturday night with Claude Gentry at his cabin and started out Sunday morning for a hunt.

Since then no trace of them has been found. Gentry, locally taking alarm, managed to send the news outside this morning. Snow has fallen heavily since the boys left the cabin and lies many feet deep in ravines.

Unless the missing youths have reached one of the few old cabins in that region, no hope is held out for them. Lee Timin, father of Wesley Timin, lives at Sonoma, Tiedrumme county.

EL PASO, WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 1.—Just as rescuers were beginning to breathe easily again after their labors in reaching the 48 autoists snowbound at the Tejon ranger station on the route, four miles south of Lebec and brought them to safety, word was received from Sandberg's, a point seven miles farther back in the mountains from the station, that 15 more tourists were trapped in a cabin at Kelly's, six miles south of Sandberg's.

The 15 have been in the snow at that point is said to be drifted to a depth of nearly seven feet over the entire route.

An attempt to reach the party was started by helicopter from Sandberg's this morning. Little is known of the condition of the snow-bound party.

The majority of the 43 people who were rescued from the ranger station were stuck at Lebec today receiving care from the experience. A few were brought to this city by stage.

Supervisor J. B. McFarland of Kern county who returned to Bakersfield after having led the party of rescuers to the ranger station, declared that snow conditions on the ridge route were "terrific." He said he did not expect the road to become passable for many days.

WOMAN RESCUES SON.

FRESNO, Feb. 1.—Fighting her way through drifts of snow waist deep, carrying her small son, Mrs. D. E. Nickel, 35, Traction street, Bakersfield, finally arrived at the ranger station in Tejon Pass, according to the vivid description of the plight of stranded motorists she related to two representatives of the Tribune.

She, finally, a Republican, who were the first newspaper men to reach the blizzard zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickel and their small son, Junior Nickel, left Los Angeles Sunday night, they told the newspaper representatives, in a drizzling rain. The rain turned to snow when they reached San Fernando, and they were caught in the hardest part of the storm on an unprotected road and spent all of Sunday night in their car.

The ranger found them on Monday morning, but to get to the station they were forced to make their way through the deeply piled banks of snow.

CAR BATTERED DRIFTS.

Cars were used as battering rams against the piles of drifted white. Two of the young women in a party, Lucille Warren and Madge Morris, were suffering so severely from frostbite that they had to be given immediate attention. Miss Morris, in describing the plight of the party, said: "The storm struck us about 2:30 Sunday afternoon. We first felt it as we started up the ridge, and the snowstorm grew so rapidly that within a short time we were fairly blinded. There were three cars of us in a row and the men tried to use the machines as a battering ram against the piling snow. From 6:30 Sunday morning until 6:30 that night, when we finally reached the ranger's cabin, we had made but a few miles. As fast as the people reached the ranger station they were given first aid, and had it not been for that we would have been in a terrible condition."

During the duration of the storm V. C. de Lapp, the ranger in charge, fought the drifts, cared for those who arrived at his cabin and gave general aid to those marooned here, according to those who spent the day there.

RESCUERS CARRIES FOOD

From the southern end of the route a group of workers under C. E. McStay of the Automobile Club of Southern California is completing its search. The party is operating with a truck, two touring cars and a wrecking car, carrying large supplies of provisions. This group up to last night had supplied provisions to

Boys Holding to Dog's Tail Reach Safety in Storm

(By Associated Press)

FRESNO, Feb. 1.—Holding tight to the tail of a dog that was accompanying them, Floyd Johnson, aged 16, and Alton Self, aged 16, both of Fresno, were led to safety through a blinding snowstorm on Monday, in the mountains about thirty miles east of Fresno, after they had become lost, about two miles from their camp. Two other boys, who had become lost in the same snowstorm, were found by a rescue party a short time later lying in the snow completely exhausted.

The four were members of a party of seven, that went into the mountains on Sunday on a snow party.

thirty cars which were found along the highway. From the Lebec end of the road a party under Supervisors J. I. Waggy and J. B. McFarland are working south to join the other group at Sandberg.

Eighteen cars were at Caswell. No list of the owners was available, but the occupants were provided for at that point.

As the groups of rescued storm victims arrived at Lebec they brought tales of suffering and hardship that included stories of children being out all night in the cold kept alive by the warmth of the mother's body. Daylight today revealed cars along the highway within a few feet of each other, where the occupants of neither car knew of the proximity of the other. One machine stopped within a few yards of a ranger's camp, and the mother and father and child spent the night in the car clinging to each other for warmth.

AID IS GIVEN.

Throughout the day, men, women and children came hobbling over the trail to Lebec from the cabin of Forest Ranger De Lapp of the Tejon district. Most of them will remain here until their automobiles are driven from the snow drifts. Actual count showed 29 machines stalled in the immediate vicinity of the cabin. Sicks and old clothing were bound around the feet and limbs of many who were caught in the unexpected blizzard clad in too light clothing.

At 9 o'clock this afternoon the last two women had been brought in from the cabin on a sled.

While all of the 62 persons marooned in the little three-room cabin have suffered to some extent from the exposure, upon their arrival at Lebec today most of them took their experience good-naturedly and laughingly told how they had been compelled to divide the little food available, each getting two crackers and a sardine for one meal, and of how, when the fuel supply was exhausted they salvaged the fence around the cabin to feed a small stove around which forty persons tried to keep warm.

ALIMONY PAID, DECREE ISSUES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The divorce of Miss Mosquini, who lives at the Hotel Touraine, Oakland, was awarded a final decree of divorce today by Superior Judge Edward Shortall, following an adjustment of back alimony alleged to have been due since she obtained an interlocutory decree a year ago. Bryant paid her $800, as well as an attorney's fee of $125. Bryant is proprietor of a bowling alley in Oakland.

COUNCIL GIVES $5500 FOR FUND TO AID JOBLESS

Hears Plea to Establish Comfort Station in Downtown District.

The city council this morning took preliminary steps toward opening Jefferson street from Seventeenth street to San Pablo avenue, heard various protests against garages and machine shops, and discussed the old-time comfort station question. Commissioner Albert C. Carter was chairman in place of Mayor Davis, who was ill.

E. A. Young, representing the Merchants' Exchange and Rotary Club, urged the establishment of a comfort station downtown. He said he had urged it before the council 15 years ago and "received a favorable reply," which never bore fruit. He received another favorable reply today, but intimated that he will be better convinced when he sees the comfort station.

The sum of $57,524.24 was brought into the general fund of the current fiscal year from the remnants of general funds of past years.

A petition of the Coast Tire & Rubber Company for permission to construct a 10,000-gallon gasoline tank was favorably received, but it was pointed out that the ordinances must be amended before such a large tank can be permitted. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The Santa Fe Improvement club lodged a protest against an electrical machine shop at 323 Fifty-fifth street.

Commissioner Eacuss announced that the Coptown Association and other property owners are pleading that Seventeenth street be cut through to San Pablo avenue. He says this opening will be "less expensive than others, is of great importance to the circulation of traffic, and will undoubtedly stimulate business in this district."

A Florida inventor has commissioned a floating plant which has nets to catch fish and a complete cannery outfit aboard.

For Raw Sore Throat

At the first sign of a raw, sore throat rub on a little Musterole with your fingers.

It goes right to the spot with a gentle tingle, loosens congestion, draws out soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It has all the strength of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use; 35 and 65 cents in jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1922.

A REORGROUPING PLAN.

Mr. Walter E. Brown, chairman of the joint congressional committee on the reorganization of the governmental departments at Washington, has laid before the President his proposals for regrouping and reorganizing the executive departments and bureaus. Mr. Brown has occupied the unique position as a special liaison officer between the President and the congressional committee and, in cooperation with the committee, has been at work on this task for several months.

There has not been as yet any official statement of the details of the recommendations which the committee and Mr. Brown have agreed upon. But announcements from time to time have given a pretty fair idea of the outstanding changes which adoption of the committee's report would entail.

It is understood that the recommendations involve no change in the number of the President's cabinet, but that it involves the merging of two departments and the creation of a third—a department of public welfare was one of President Harding's campaign promises. Mr. Brown's idea involves creating such a department containing a bureau of education and a combination of the Pension Office with the United States Veterans' Bureau.

By far the most radical proposal and one that may meet strong opposition is the suggestion for merging the War and Navy Departments into one Department of National Defense. At present the plan admittedly is skeletonized. It involves a secretary of national defense and three important subdivisions, each under the jurisdiction of an under secretary. There would be an under secretary of naval forces, and an under secretary of land forces, and an under secretary of national resources. The latter bureau is designated for tabulation of the industrial, physical and man power resources of a "nation in arms," that is demanded by modern warfare. It would provide in the event of war for the establishment of bureaus under responsible heads, thereby eliminating the confusion caused during the World War by the sudden growth of independent boards and bureaus.

It has been stated that Mr. Brown's recommendation for a Department of National Defense leaves to the President and his advisers formulation of the detailed functions of the department if the Administration should view the idea with favor. The function of aircraft, whether an independent or auxiliary weapon, is still the subject of heated controversy in both the Army and the Navy. There is also speculation as to what would become of the Marine Corps. Should any attempt be made to do away with the Marine Corps there would come objections from members and friends of this organization.

Another proposal in connection with a department of national defense is to bring under the jurisdiction of the Under Secretary of naval forces the coast guard and revenue cutter service which is now under the Treasury Department. The Bureau of Light Houses would remain with the Department of Commerce.

Mr. Brown favors the transfer of the Prohibition Enforcement Bureau from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice, as the Attorney General is entrusted with the prosecution of violations of federal laws. Secretary Mellon, it is understood, is not opposed to the change. The "drys" make the objection that they prefer that the Treasury Department and not Attorney General Daugherty should have jurisdiction over the Prohibition Bureau.

In a bureau of criminal investigation Mr. Brown favors carrying out recommendations of city police chiefs for the establishment of a central bureau of criminal identification, where the fingerprints and other identification of criminals all over the country will be placed on file for the use of both local and federal investigators.

Final action by Congress on the proposals of the Brown committee is far off. There will be much discussion of them. Political conflict over them is inevitable. Probably the President, his cabinet and the Republican leaders will not be able easily to reach an agreement for the adoption of all of them. But there has long been a popular impression that reorganization of the federal departments and bureaus is badly needed and the country will expect the administration and Congress to make a speedy decision.

THE FOREIGN LOAN BILL.

After an amendment voted yesterday which will restrict the authority of the loan commission to jurisdiction over the war credits advanced to the Allied powers in the great war, withdrawing the proposed grant of authority to settle all claims the United States has now or may hereafter have against the Allied powers, the Senate passed the foreign debt refunding bill. It is not expected that the House will insist upon any material change in the Senate version.

As the bill now stands the loan commission which the President is empowered to create, will have authority to fix the term of the refunding loan agreements, the rate of interest they shall bear, to pass upon the acceptability of securities which the debtor nations may offer and to decree the time for the beginning of payments on interest and principal. With this legislation completed the government will be in a position to answer definitely the nationwide question about what is to be done with the foreign debts.

Refunding of the foreign loans is an urgent business of the government. Some of the nations will begin interest payments, if not amortization of their debts, as soon as a definite refunding agreement can be negotiated. Great Britain, in particular, is making provision in her annual budget, now in course of preparation, for payments on her debt. France will desire to begin payment, or at least, to prevent any further accrual of defaulted interest, as soon as possible.

To begin the discharge of their financial obligations to this government will be a strong advertisement to the world that these nations are on the road to financial recovery. It will go very far toward strengthening their position in the exchanges and their credit in the world's markets.

The United States is in duty bound to make the refunding arrangement as soon as possible. The Treasury Department is anxious to go ahead with it and the only thing holding up this proceeding is the failure of Congress to grant the necessary legislative authority.

THE FOREIGN TRADE SLUMP.

America's foreign trade suffered a heavy slump last year. Statistics compiled by the Department of Commerce that exports of manufactures fell off by $2,000,000,000; shipments out of the country of raw materials dropped by nearly $1,000,000,000, and foodstuffs exports declined by about $500,000,000 during 1921.

During the last year exports of manufactures aggregated $2,025,000,000, compared with $4,163,000,000 during 1920, while imports aggregated $962,000,000 during 1921, against $1,689,000,000 the previous year.

Raw materials exported in 1921 amounted to $984,000,000, compared with $1,970,000,000 the previous year, while imports totaled $853,000,000, against $1,751,000,000 during 1920.

Shipments of foodstuffs during the last year aggregated $1,461,000,000, compared with $2,033,000,000 during 1920, while imports totaled $672,000,000, against $1,815,000,000 in 1920.

It is necessary again to remember that comparisons of values arising from selling prices or buying prices are misleading. The price at which commodities were exchanged in 1921 were considerably below the average exchange price of 1920. But after making allowance for the decrease in market values, there was still a very large decrease in the volume of the foreign trade.

This decline was reflected in lower prices at home, in a weakened market for agricultural products and structural materials, in a thousand idle merchant ships during the last half of the year just closed. In time the people will attain a sense of the importance of a foreign trade, in which the United States is actively on the selling end.

One person was killed every thirty-five minutes in automobile accidents during 1921, according to the estimate of the National Safety Council. The toll was heavy, probably about 15,000. Again we wish it were possible to say just how many of these tragedies were due to a fool or knave at the steering wheel. If the fool and knave could be eliminated the automobile would be one of the safest, as well as the most enjoyable, modes of travel.

It is a new experience for California motorists to be marooned in the snow near Bakersfield. But then when they reflect upon the difficulties of the Donner party before the automobile was invented or a highway was laid in the West, they really have cause only for thankfulness.

A direct cable to Germany has been opened for service. One more agency for the dissemination of propaganda, for one thing.

We have been advertising for some clean rags and we sure do need them. We have used E. V. The more we think of it the more we delight in the predicament of those Californians who went East to work or so ago. We can imagine them getting off the train in Chicago, for instance, and rushing into the drug store or the postoffice or somewhere to buy postal cards. The cards the Californians buy in the East must bear pictures of snow, heavy snow hanging on the roof and it is the card of this kind that is mailed home. The joke of the whole affair is that when the cards reached California the mailman had to knock the snow off the lid of the mail box before he could leave them. We feel that we can scarcely wait until those visitors return.

NOTES and COMMENT

Great disappointment is said to result from the ban which President Harding has placed upon the "Bris" chest. It has been a roystering event for thirty years. The "bottle on the hip" is the alleged reason for the ban. It is a singular fact that these appeared to be no such objection in those times when "it" flowed freely, but now that it is supposed not to flow at all it is given as excuse for absolute inhibition.

It looks as though Supervisor Margaret Morgan and all others who thought a woman's presence on the municipal board of San Francisco would curb the rough stuff are to be disappointed. Reports indicate that the disposition to rough house it, persists in its pristine vigor. The custom appears to be so well entrenched that the male members seem to think they would not be credited with earnestness if they did not follow their former well known tactics.

The Stockton Record wonders where we are at: "Where are we all headed for with the new kind of feminism who is trying to reduce everything in life to a plain business like basis with every trace of sentiment thrown to the discard? First want her husband's name because she'll have to get some new cards, or change the sign on her office door. Now the Australian woman member of parliament who wants the wife to be paid wages, to be able to apply to the arbitration court for proper working hours just like the cook, the laundress, the maid and all the others."

The news from Paris about the "corset makers' hall" is in a way, important. The promoters are represented to have been pleased at the high attendance of handsomely dressed women and well known men, but "discouraged because not a single woman present wore stays." If there should be curiosity as to how this fact was ascertained, the explanation is afforded that shirt waists and fox-trotting pretensions to male dancers gave out the information.

The death of Explorer Shackleton illustrates how a man may successfully negotiate great perils to succumb to a petty ill. The hardships that this gallant gentleman withstood have been amply told and without doubt considerably wondered at; but at last he died in a comfortable cabin of one of his ships, safely at anchor.

The headings to the effect that "Margot Asquith Reaches United States" are rather emphatic. United States, in the case, and no amelioration being ready at hand, the question may occur as to what we had better do about it.

It is to be hoped that congress in cutting down expenses in the post-office department, don't touch the rural mail carriers. JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

I AIN'T DEAD YET.
There was I used to worry and I'd sit around and sign
And think with every ache I got that I was goin' to die.
I'd see disaster comin' from a dozen different ways
An' prophesy calamity an' dark and dreary days.
But I've come to this conclusion, that it's foolishness to fret,
I've had my share of sickness, but I ain't dead.
Yet!

Wet springs have come to grieve me an' I've grumbled at the showers.
But I can't recall a June-time that forgot to bring the flowers.
I've had my business troubles, and looked failure in the face,
But the crashes I expected seemed to pass right by the place.
So I'm takin' life more calmly, pleased with everything I get,
An' not over-hurt by losses, coz I ain't dead.
Yet!

I've feared a thousand failures an' a thousand deaths I've died,
I've had this world in ruins by the gloom I've prophesied.
But the sun shines 'bout this mornin' an' the skies above are blue,
An' with all my griefs an' trouble, I have somehow lived 'em through.

There may be new cares before me, much like those that I have met,
Death will come some day an' take me, but I ain't dead.
Yet!

He is also the oldest active merchant in the country, and to see him in the store, one would think him 30 years younger. He is among the first at the store in the morning, and remains until closing time at night. DO YOUR HEALTH

What You Ought to Do in the Case of Floating Kidney.
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.,
Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

When you speak of a "normal" person, we refer to one who conforms to the usual type. He is the sort of individual we expect to meet. He is built and conducts himself according to the accepted rules.

"Normally," we expect to find all the organs of the body in stated places. The heart and the spleen are on the left side, the liver and appendix on the right. But just as we find an occasional person who is left-handed, so, once in a while, a person is found whose organs are reversed.

There used to be a man who traveled from medical college to medical college to show himself. He was built left-handed—his heart was on the right side, and his liver on the left. He was just as "normal" in the common use of the term as any of us. His functions went on just as ours do, and he was a perfectly healthy man. This man was simply a medical curiosity.

The kidneys are located in the small of the back, held in place by the coverings, and usually pretty well braced by the surrounding tissues. They are stationary organs, and intended by Nature to remain in position.

As a result of various conditions which will be mentioned, one kidney or the other may be partially dislocated. It may actually slip away from its anchorage and find its way to distant parts.

If the organ slides back and forth within reasonable limits, the condition is referred to as "movable kidney." If it departs from the normal location and moves about at will the trouble is called "floating kidney."

Tight lacing by women used to be considered a prominent cause. It would be interesting to find out whether the modern corsetless woman is frequently the victim of floating kidney.

Women who have borne many babies suffer from relaxation of the abdominal walls, with consequent lack of support for the kidneys. This condition predisposes to dislocation of the organ. The figure of the modern girl is so slouching, and her abdomen so relaxed, that it will be a wonder if floating kidney does not become more common. We should bear in mind the importance of tense and retracted abdominal walls as a preventive of many ills.

Injuries and hard lifting may cause displacement. The pressure of the liver makes the right kidney more liable to this trouble than the left. The force of blows and the effects of lifting are more directly transmitted to the right kidney.

The victim of floating kidney may never suspect it. He may have no symptoms whatever, or there may be a pulling and dragging sensation, or actual pain in the kidney region. Frequently overestimated by the victim. Of course, the organ may turn in such a way as to twist its supplying blood-vessels, or to interfere with drainage. Then there is real trouble. The patient is sick, has fever and great discomfort. The symptoms disappear, only to return when the organ takes another flop.

Proper support given by a pad and bandage, will help. Getting down on the knees, with the chest on the floor—morning and night—will encourage the return of the kidney by gravity.

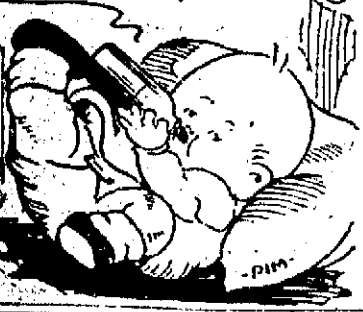

Operation is sometimes indicated, the organ being stitched in place. Very thin persons are more susceptible to kidney displacement, and a marked increase in fat may help to hold the organ in place.

GRAZED MAN
STABS NURSE
IN S.F. HOTEL

Male Attendant Is Slashed by James Beck When He Tries to Prevent Patient Leaving Room; Police Are Called.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—
Awakened from a sound sleep early today, Peter Fitzpatrick, a male nurse, was forced to fight a battle for his life with a madman armed with a sword cane, in a room at the State
Hotel, Turk and Mason streets.

Unable to parry the frenzied sword thrusts of the madman, James Beck, a local business man, Fitzpatrick was stabbed severely in the chest, and bleeding profusely he staggered downstairs and notified the night clerk. Police were called and Pat-rickmen Gallagher, Gurtler and Curtin from the central station took Beck into custody after a fight with the maniac, who held them off by slicing knife thrusts from behind a curtain.

NURSE FEARS CONDITION.
Fitzpatrick, who resides at 1547
Fleary street and is Beck's nurse, awoke this morning to discover his charge trying to leave the apartment.
Beck had been under treatment for schizophrenia and the nurse feared for his condition if he went out. He asked him to remain in the hotel.

Then, according to Fitzpatrick,
Beck seized a sword cane and drawing the blade, rushed at him. Beck drove his nurse all over the apartment, flourishing the sword and attempting to run him through. Unarmed the nurse was no match for the madman and was finally stabbed deeply in the chest. Beck from his battle for life and from the loss of blood, Fitzpatrick stumbled downstairs into the hotel lobby, yelling at a clerk to call the police and fell fainting to the floor.

OVERPOWERED BY POLICE.
When the patrolmen arrived, Beck had barricaded himself in his room.
After the policemen entered he made attempts with the knife. For several minutes his frenzied thrusts held them off, but they finally rushed him into a corner, where he was overpowered.

Beck was charged with assault on a great bodily harm, but was taken to the Detention hospital instead of the city prison. Fitzpatrick was taken to the Emergency hospital, where his wound was dressed. He is suffering from a deep wound in his chest and is in a serious condition. Physicians say he will recover.

Beck is prominent in club and fraternal circles in San Francisco and is a well-known business man.

it get by, either.

The Lewis orchestra plays a history of jazz since its earliest begin-

1898 on are played by an augmentdancer, and the terpsichorean leader. He invades the stage and dances with her—fiddle and all, a mighty well. In fact—it "stops the

IN COUNTY UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH

Oakland Tribune

VOLUME XCVI.

OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 1, 1922.

A

NO. 32.

Challenge for Figures Still
Dodged by Charter League

Nineteen days have elapsed since the presentation by the Alameda County Anti-Division League, of figures carefully compiled by experts, and checked by William Dolge & Co., certified public accountants, showing that county division would result in a minimum tax rate of $5.43 on the $100, as against the present rate $4.91, an increase of 52 cents.

These figures show the taxpayers of Oakland receive $450,000 more each year than they pay into the county treasury. For instance:

In behalf of orphans and half orphans, the city of Oakland receives $57,400 per year in benefits more than it contributes in taxes. In assistance to indigents in their homes, the city receives $22,300 more than it pays.

Through use of tubercular sanitarium and infirmary, actual use, the Oakland benefit is $45,000 more than it pays. In school apportionment there is another large gain.

Likewise, through use of the receiving hospital, care of feeble-minded, county jail, detention home and Associated Charities, the saving to Oakland, because of the excess of benefits over taxes paid, is $14,350.

The statement also shows that Oakland, as a city and county, would have to maintain all of its present city functions and bear the whole burden of county expense.

According to a provision of the state law practically all of the county officers must be retained. The provisions of the charter open the door to unlimited expenditure through creation of new offices, departments and boards, and the employment of innumerable experts, deputies and clerks with salaries to be fixed by the manager or metropolitan council.

The Charter League has presented a statement from expert accountants saying they have checked over the figures of the Taxpayers' Association and that on them a certain saving "should be" made.

The Anti-Division League, nineteen days ago, made this proposition:

That the expert accountant of the Charter League go over the figures with the expert accountants of the Alameda County Anti-Division League, William Dolge & Co., and, if there is a conflict of opinion, the two select a third certified public accountant and that the agreement reached by the three experts be presented to the voters of Oakland in order that they may know what county division and the new charter scheme will cost the taxpayers.

If the Charter League is certain of its figures, why does it refuse this very fair proposition?

OFFICER TAKES
RIDE IN WAGON
ALL FOR NAUGHT

ALAMEDA, Feb. 1.—Joseph James, 1612 Lafayette street, had the police force looking for a white horse drawing a green wagon yesterday afternoon. Policeman Grant Hicks saw the outfit meandering away in an unconcerned manner on Buena Vista avenue and he climbed aboard.

Hicks, not knowing that his brother officers were looking for the white horse and green wagon, figured that the quickest way of finding where the horse belonged was to let the animal have its own head. The horse started toward Webster street. Grant let it have its way. At that thoroughfare the horse headed toward Oakland and Hicks, knowing his beat did not extend that far, turned around and headed for the police station.

On the way, however, he encountered Policeman Andrew Peterson and Louie Servente, who were on a hunt for the white horse and green wagon.

"Well, I had a nice ride, anyway," was Hicks' comment as he turned the outfit over to them.

Four popular superstitions, in which people in some parts of the United States still believe, are traced to their sources in next Sunday's TRIBUNE Magazine.

JEWISH RELIEF
WILL BE URGED

Hundreds of Jewish leaders in the Eastbay district plan to attend the meeting this evening in the large Covenant hall of Sinai Temple. Twenty-eight and Webster streets, to hear Jacob Billikopf of New York and Philadelphia present the cause of the $14,000,000 appeal of the American Jewish Relief Committee for relief of starving and homeless Jews in Europe.

The meeting, which will be directed by Rev. Dr. Rudolph J. Coffee, rabbi of Sinai temple, will also be addressed briefly by A. S. Lauenson, regional director of the Eastbay drive for $400,000 of the $14,000,000, and Frederick Kohn, formerly regional director, will take an active part in the proceedings.

According to Dr. Boris D. Bogen, formerly director-general of the work of the American Jewish Relief Committee in Europe, and therefore director of the funds of the Joint Distribution Committee, who is expected also to address the meeting, the money raised in the $14,000,000 will be used for six purposes, namely:

Aid for starving Jews in Russia; economic rehabilitation for all Jewish refugees; cultural work, "that the spiritual part of them shall not die"; care for children outside Russia; repatriation, including the organization of loan associations for the purpose of loaning funds at small interest, and the loaning of agricultural implements and tools; sanitation and medical relief.

GRAND JURY
WILL PROBE
SMITH CASE

Committee to Investigate the Charge Made Against Sergeant of Police That Chinese Was Beaten by Him

A committee to investigate charges preferred by Native Sons of the Golden State, a Chinese organization, that A. B. Smith, sergeant in the Oakland police department, beat
Tom Lum, one of the society's members, was appointed today at the first session of the 1922 county grand jury.

The committee was appointed following the presentation at the grand jury session of resolutions, passed by the Chinese organization, requesting a probe into the affair. The resolutions were accompanied by written statements of officials of the organization describing the alleged circumstances of the beating, which they asserted occurred while Lum was being placed under arrest some time ago. The matter was placed before the jury by Foreman Woolsey.

Bids for the annual expediting of the county's books were presented to the jury. There were eight in number and the contract was awarded to Brotherton-Thomson & Co., who bid $1500. The session adjourned after 40 minutes, to meet again at the call of the foreman.

District Attorney Decoto made no recommendations for specific investigations.

The jury members assembled in the grand jury's regular meeting place, the chamber on the second floor of the county jail.

THREE BERKELEY
OFFICIALS OUSTED

BERKELEY, Feb. 1.—Three city employees were let go by the city council this morning as part of its slashing program designed to cut down the civic expenses by $30,000.
The three employees who were let out include City Attorney Frank V. Cornish, whose salary is $150 a month, and who will continue to hold office until March 1.

Another man let go was Mills
Thompson, assistant superintendent of streets, at $100 a month.

Tom third to receive the ax was Thomas James, who has been working on the unemployment situation.
The council has adopted an ordinance paving the way to the appointment of Lemuel Sanderson, now assistant city attorney, to the office of city attorney.

Alameda Concert of Chamber Music Held

Under the auspices of the Music
History Section of Adolphian Club in Alameda, the second of the series of concerts was presented last night by the Chamber Music Society of San Francisco, founded by Elias Hecht, and under the direction of Louis Persinger. In the string quartet were Louis Persinger, first violin;
Louis Ford, second violin; Nathan Firestone, viola; Walter Ferner, violoncello, with Elias Hecht, flautist.

Mario Partridge Price, assisted by Miss John Alexander at the piano, made her initial appearance last evening in the Encinal city in a group of songs, among which were
"She N'er Told Her Love," by Hayden; "My Lovely Cecilia," Old English; "At the Edge of the Sea," by Tom Dobson; and "One Golden Day." Later "Vissi Darte" from Tosca, by Puccini, was a distinctive number of the program.

A trio of numbers by Gluck, Foote and Gouvy for flute and strings was given by the Chamber Music Society.
The opening number, Hayden's Quartet in D Minor Op. 76 No. 2, and later Dvorak's Quartet in F Major Op. 96, were the outstanding features of the evening's program.

The next concert is scheduled for Tuesday evening, March 28, when Kuletan Atli, Bohemian harp virtuoso, and Ida Scott, dramatic lyric soprano, will be the artists presented.

Directors' Majority
For County Division

At a meeting of the directors of the Merchants' Exchange last evening a majority of the directors went on record in favor of county division.
At a meeting of the general membership held a week ago a vote was taken and a slim majority of two voted for division, fifteen members present refusing to vote, showing a marked division of sentiment among the membership.

Five Censors of
Co-ed Morals at University Named

BERKELEY, Feb. 1.—Five women censors of co-ed morals and behavior on the university campus were announced today for the coming semester.

They are Olive Presler, Frances Bartlett, Josephine Hankla, Margaret McCone and Lois Brock, all leaders in campus activities. They will form the women's student affairs committee, which has the power of recommending the dismissal of women students from the campus for violations of the university's honor spirit and other delinquencies of college laws.

Five cases of cheating in examinations are waiting the new committee as its first task.

BILL KLEPPER SAYS ONE MORE HURLER IS ALL THAT HE NEEDS

Almost a Brand New Ball Club Will Be Supported by Fans at Portland Next Season

When the gong sounds for the opening of the 1922 season of the Pacific Coast League, the Portland baseball team will be better prepared for the start than it has been for the past few years. New owners, a new manager and a whole flock of new ball-players will combine in a fight to win the 1922 Coast League pennant for the Rose City of the Northwest. William Klepper, president of the Portland club, proved for the past few seasons at Seattle that he will open the purse strings to the limit, so the manager can go out and sign the ball-players he thinks will make a winning club. Now Klepper is located at Portland, and from the way the Rose City club stacks up at the present time, he didn't let money worry him in the least. For three years past, Portland baseball fans had to see the season open with only promises of having a winning team some time before the Fourth of July, for Walter McCredie was usually experimenting with a flock of youngsters, and waiting for the majors to deliver promised talent.

About September of last year the _____ Portland fans and in fact the entire city of Long Beach. The fans who stayed away this time were being run out of Portland, and to many it looked like a break of luck for all connected with the team. The fans who stayed at Portland. Fans refused to support the Beavers as they would if it was the first time. It was not for a time it looked like what was at one time the second best baseball city in the country. The map was erased of the baseball map. But things are different now at the Rose City, with new owners, a new manager, and a new team. The fans and League followers are looking for the same to stage a wonderful comeback this season.

Still Chance for Kenny To Lead Portland Club.

President Bill Klepper says that his Beavers are now ready for the infield from being all set for the opening of the season. The hitch may be made by Marty Krug refusing to play. The manager says that if Marty has not said he will not be the job, but friends of his say that the Beavers if Kenworthy did not start in the position. Marty always had a chance to lead the team, but he was while expected to have such a position at Salt Lake when along came the new manager, and he was out for Paddy Maglin. However, Klepper is a man who is always in a position to talk business with his men, and he said that he would not be letting Marty into the fold should have much trouble in getting Marty into the fold, and he would not report. Marty played indifferent baseball, but he was not expected because he was all out of place with the flock.

through the customary training in spring and securing one more good right handed pitcher, Thomas Turner, an entirely stranger to Pacific Coast League fans, but from the way he has started his lining up a ball player, Klepper and company are going to prove a very popular man out here. Bill Kenworthy, last year manager of the Seattle Indians, and who was named manager of the team was slated to have Turner's job, and there is still a rumor afloat that he will step in before the start of the season. The manager of the team while Turner will handle all the outside work. McCredie refused to let Klepper have Kenworthy a couple of days before he was to leave, so that Walter will change his mind before the end of the season he was playing his usual brand of ball, and promises to have another of his big seasons with the Beavers this year.

between now and the start of the race, and turn Kenworthy loose.

Kenworthy was a grapping hooker out for a good pitcher, and the chances are that he will line up for the Pacific coast. Except for that one pitcher, everything up at Portland looks wonderful.

Will Start With An Experienced Infield.

When the Beavers started last season their infield was almost an entire experiment with green youngsters. Kenworthy was the only one of low whom much could be expected of and then he did not report until a week before the season started. The rest of the infield was not able to give his best. Willis Butler was a flivver at third base, while Jim Poole was still a greenhorn at second base. The lineup, after coming from a Class B

New International League by Philadelphia Americans, to figure out the chances of the club. Sargent, another International League player, will look after third. In 1920 he was with the Philadelphia club, while Sargent, who was w Buffalo, hit just one point behind him. McCarty, who was at second base and shortstop for Jersey City, topping the list of second sackers in the fielding in four straight years, will be matched next to last of shortstops in the International League in 1920, but he had all of the year to improve in his field.

Battery Department Will Be Almost Entirely New.

With Del Baker disposed of to Mobile Club in the Southern Association, the Beavers will have a new year with the Philadelphia club the National League, and Howard league. "Cap" Young was a winning pitcher at short, but his size, age and inexperience were against him. There is about only one hitch that might develop to keep the Portland be the regular workers behind the bat for Klepper and company. There also is a chance of a kind of "Babe Ruth" as a third catcher, for Klepper is one of the first-rate "Babe Ruth" believers, and realizes what a predicament a club is in when it has two catchers and one gets injured.

The pitching staff of the Beavers will also be much stronger for the start of this year's race than it was for the one last year, although Walter McCredie and the Portland Isthmians thought for a time that there was still as good as the Beavers' "Big Red" and the failure of Harry Colson, Rudy Kallio to win an ordinary amount of games crippled the Beavers.

Nine pitchers are already on the roster of the Beavers for the coming season, but only three of them were with the club last year. They are Bill Plummer, graduate from Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter League, who showed much promise in a couple of months he was with

Although it is very early in the season to tell much of California's baseball aggregation, it is a safe prediction that Radebaugh will be one of the players with the wow this year. Zumloch will probably use Radebaugh in left field as a regular this year as will the Tar Heels. He is the hot boy before the graduation of Moke Myers.

Charlie Andrews of the U. C. has lost two of his most valuable grapplesters in Gen Golden and E. E. Patterson. Golden has been a star in the past two years, but for the last two years, while Patterson is as nifty a 115-pound matman as California has produced in the past year, he has been regarded, but are in college taking

The University of Washington is going to have a swimming team this year. In the north the condition is directly opposite from that at California. In the north there are better than 100 men out for the sport, but the University refuses to provide any facilities. In the north the facilities are better than in the south, but the south is short. Too bad the two universities couldn't get together and merge their resources.

Tennis in the southern California conference starts early. The first matches are to be held on February 10. The Pomona and Claremont branches. The Pomona net schedule

The Beavers two years ago, and rated the best in the country. Jimmy Middleton and Vernou Pease are coming from the Detroit Tri. In the hope of adding strength to the team, the Beavers are recruiting and is near the good hunter he two years ago, he is going to be a good chance of topping all the others in the state. The middle of the season will be a new fellow the Oaks tried get last year, but was held back by other clubs in the majors. The Philadelphia Phillies, who comes highly recommended as Turner.

Klepper was thinking of signing Big Hammer and Ralph Coleman to the Tacoma club, but he has heard many nice reports about what a plumper shower with the Beavers. The Beavers

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just solves them. To do this get about two ounces of caliche powder from your druggist, write a little note to a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The caliche powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Picking and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and untidy—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of caliche powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get caliche powder at any drug store, and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method. Advertisement.

CONNOLLY CASE UPHOLD BY CITY CIVIL SERVICE

Action of Collbourn Sustained After Rehearing of All of Nightingale Charges.

After a session lasting a half-hour last night, the civil service board early today sustained the action of Commissioner Frank Collbourn in dismissing Michael Connolly as a member of the Oakland police force.

The session was long-drawn and contained a practical re-hearing of the Nightingale case, in which Connolly was an interested actor; but the verdict of the civil service board was quick after the evidence was all in, taking but five minutes to reach.

Connolly was dismissed on three charges, including conduct derogatory to good discipline. It was contended that he took an over-due interest in the case of a brother officer, being named as a go-between in a move to secure Charles Nightingale's intended confession which would clear Walter J. Petersen from some allegations. The Connolly hearing included into intricate matters, but also included alleged conversations between policemen in barrooms where corn whisky was served them freely. Nightingale alleged that Connolly piled him with liquor to obtain the confession.

A single dramatic incident came when Connolly was on the witness stand and made certain allegations against Nightingale, who went into the board room and objected to attacks on his character, unless he could be represented by an attorney. Nightingale was then persuaded to withdraw.

The witnesses last night included J. L. Brown, Chief of Police Drew, Attorney Cedric Petersen, Patrolman Edward Betancourt and N. F. Enos, Captain J. F. Lynch, Lieutenant William F. Woods, Sergeant Charles Hemphill and John Connolly, brother of Michael.

The case of the appeal of Patrolman Daniel Farow, dismissed, was set for two weeks from yesterday.

GIRL BANDITS DISGUISED, IS POLICE BELIEF

Whether two girls or two men dressed in girls' clothes, the attempt to hold up Cecil Smith is the mystery that the police are attempting to solve.

Smith, who resides at 780 Sixty-fifth street, was within a short distance from his home last night when he noticed two young "women." When he was about to pass them by one of them turned and pointed a revolver at him.

"Stick up your hands or we will kill you," she said. Smith told Policeman C. B. Flint that instead of obeying her command he hit the would-be hold-up person in the face and knocked her to the ground. Both of the would-be bandits made their escape.

MODERN ANIMALS' HISTORY TRACED A MILLION YEARS

L. A. Savant Relates Result of Investigations in the La Brea Pits.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—The prehistoric past of the fox, deer and antelope offer a field for fertile research as a result of finds in the famous La Brea pits, a town of half a million years. Dr. E. E. Huxley, local paleontologist, told members of the Southern California Academy of Sciences. He reviewed a million or more years in which the movements of the elephant or mastodon, the three-toed horse or mihiopius, the camel or camelops, the saber-toothed tiger or smilodon, and the sloth family, were traced beyond the pleistocene age into the pliocene, miocene, oligocene and eocene periods of the tertiary era.

The horse, camel and elephant are very small compared to their ancestors, who were apparently wiped out by the last glacial period when the great ice fields of the north swept down over a California that was not so sunny, and these prehistoric giant mammals, with the giant ground sloth, became extinct in this freezing spell of 250,000 years ago, said Dr. Huxley.

But back in the eocene period, a million or more years before, just after conclusion of the mesozoic age, there were no giant animals, and the great ground sloth of the pleistocene age was just a little armadillo such as now exists in South America, he said. The Imperial elephant, more than twice the size of any existing today, also came from a little animal that probably was no larger than our horse or pony of today.

There has been much discussion of the human skull found in the La Brea pits, Dr. Huxley said, but noted authorities have contended that it is only 10,000 years of age and does not date back with the sloth and saber-toothed tiger, but a tree has been found in the pits, a cypress, which is believed to have grown more than a quarter of a million years ago.

Airplane Compass Found Satisfactory
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Experts of the bureau of standards have invented what is believed to be the first completely satisfactory type of airplane compass. A Department of Commerce announcement today gave credit for the invention to Dr. P. R. Heyl and Dr. L. J. Briggs, who, it was said, have designed a compass, which is now being successfully tried out by the army air service, by using the principle of the "revolving coil wire" instead of the magnetic needle.

Read About the 'Play Ball' Game

"Play Ball" made a great hit when it was put on the market late last year. No other ball game so nearly resembles the actual game as this, is so appealing to the baseball fan, or shows so many critical baseball situations in the real baseball "lingo." The players actually travel around the bases as in an actual game, and the result is just as uncertain as in a regular game. Can be played in-doors and out—your mother, dad, sister and brother will all enjoy the fascinating "PLAY BALL" game. Follow the "big league" schedule by playing "Play Ball" at home in the evenings.

"Play Ball" is solidly and durably made of wood and steel and will last for years. You will never tire of playing it as long as baseball is the favorite National sport.

Is Backache Making You Miserable?

WHY put up with that nagging backache? You can't be happy when every day brings morning lameness, sharp, shooting pains and that dull, tired, all-worn-out feeling. You want to be well and the best way to get well is to find the cause of your trouble and correct it. Have you given any thought to your kidneys? Very likely a cold, chill or strain has slowed up your kidneys and that's why you have those racking backaches, those stabbing pains, and that weak, depressed feeling. You may have headaches, too, with dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. But don't worry! Just take things easier for awhile, and help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Assist the medicine, too, by drinking water freely, eating lightly and getting plenty of rest, fresh air and exercise. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Oakland Folks Found Relief:

MRS. ELIZABETH WILLIAMS, 1314 Pershing St., says: "My kidneys were in bad condition and I couldn't straighten. I suffered constantly and couldn't rest at night. My limbs ached and pained dreadfully and in bad weather my limbs were swollen and I couldn't stand for any length of time. The action of my kidneys was too frequent. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and they helped me more than anything I had ever used. The aches and pains left and I felt like a different person."

C. B. McCOMB, 1224 Fifty-third St., says: "My kidneys were affected and became weak and inflamed, resulting in a dull, dead feeling in my back, just as if there was a hot compress over my kidneys. This misery caused me to have a fatigued feeling and to be tired and out of sorts generally. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills has always afforded relief and though I have never used them extensively or sufficiently to justify a permanent cure, I have had results that have been very welcome and have given me a high regard of the merit of Doan's."

MRS. F. BENKISER, 2623 Market St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a world of good when my kidneys were in a bad condition. I had such backaches I couldn't half do my work and my kidneys were congested at times. My limbs swelled and I could hardly keep on my feet. I also had severe headaches. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of these attacks and regulated my kidneys, relieving all signs of the trouble."

BIG EARTHQUAKE WAS IN PACIFIC, SAYS SCIENTIST

Tumbler of Yesterday Was Further Slip in San Andreas Fault Is Claim.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—By the Associated Press.—The huge "fault" in the earth's crust beneath San Francisco bay, which caused the catastrophe of 1906, has become a hundred miles longer.
The explanation today of Dr. Chester A. Reed, professor of geology and seismographic observer at the American Museum of Natural History, for the violent tremors that shook the earth, which yesterday demoralized seismographs throughout America and had scientists "guessing" as to their origin.

The earthquake took place at a point beneath the head of the Pacific ocean about 250 miles west of Portland, Oregon, and was an earth movement, a slipping, along the fault plane known as the San Andreas fault," said Dr. Reed.
SPLIT IN 1906.
In 1906 there was a remarkable earthquake caused by shifting along this plane, along the California coast from San Francisco to Cape Mendocino, in a northerly course. It was a further slipping along this fault, which caused the remarkable tremors of January 31, 1922.
The earthquake of 1906, said Dr. Reed, was a further breach of the earthquake earth's crust beneath San Francisco. Like a cracked window pane, he said, the "fault" is spreading in each direction, until now it extends from the head of the Pacific northwestward to Cape Mendocino, along the coast until it passes beneath the Pacific.

The seismograph at the American museum was one of the few in America which withstood the terrific shocks which occurred for three hours yesterday. Of the record made by the wavering needle, Dr. Reed said, "it was the most remarkable I have ever had."

HONOLULU RECORD.
HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 31.—The United States magnetic observatory at Ewa, on this island, registered an early this morning that the observer was unable to locate either the direction of the tremor or its approximate distance from this point. The seismograph indicated that the earth movement started at 2:35 a. m. and reached its maximum at 3:10 p. m., continuing for more than two hours.

(There is a difference of two hours thirty minutes between Honolulu time and Pacific coast time, which would place the tremor at Ewa yesterday morning at approximately the same time as the earth movement was recorded at different observatories on the mainland of the United States.)

Short 'Gas' Measure Gets Man a Fine
A. L. Austin, proprietor of a gasoline station at Twenty-fourth and Harrison streets, was fined $20 to pay for violating weights and measures act. He was arrested on a warrant sworn to by E. K. Strobbridge, county sealer of weights and measures. Strobbridge testified that he bought five gallons of gasoline and was short one quart, one pint and one ounce. He also stated that when he bought ten gallons he was short three quarts.

Improvement Club Social Is Arranged
The Central Oakland Improvement club will give a social in the auditorium of the Technical High school Friday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be a musical entertainment including selections by the Technical boys' band, a vocal solo of George Felder and selections by a quartet. Mrs. E. Darrois, head of the entertainment committee, President H. Henion will preside at the meeting, to which the public is invited.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.
LEGAL NOTICES
Notice to Contractors
Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Alameda County, California.
Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County, at its office, until Monday, February 20th, 1922, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the construction of a reinforced concrete dike, being a part of the Central Pacific Railway Company, Southwest of Alameda County, California. Plans and specifications on file in the office of the County Clerk open to inspection. Each bid must be accompanied by a check for at least ten per cent of the amount of the bid or proposal, certified to by some responsible party and made payable to Geo. E. Gross, Clerk of the Board, to be forfeited to the County of Alameda in case the bidder fails to execute the contract and to be applied to the party or parties to whom the contract shall be awarded or to the party or parties to whom the contract shall be awarded or to the party or parties to whom the contract shall be awarded.

'FAIR WOMEN' PAGEANT TO AID MILLS COLLEGE

Representatives of Eastbay Social and Club Circles Plan for Endowment.

Fifty women representative of the social and civic life of the Eastbay met today at the Hotel Oakland in the apartment of Mrs. Horatio Bonestell to detail plans for the pageant "Fair Women" to be staged on the evenings of March 4 and 5 for the benefit of Mills college endowment fund.
The auditorium will be the scene of the spectacle that, from today's plan will transcend any dramatic episode of its kind ever offered about the bay. Three historic periods will be portrayed by the leading matrons and matrons of the bay country—the ancient Egyptian, the Greek and the Roman, broken into fifty or more episodes.

CLUBS TO LEND AID.
Many of the prominent clubs have taken over phases of the spectacle, to be punctuated with solo dances, pantomime and song, the whole to be under the guidance of Ruth St. Denis, assisted by Mrs. Walter Lelmer and Mrs. Minna McGauley, alumnae of Mills college, the prime movers, the latter being the author of the whole concept.

PARTS ASSIGNED.
At today's meeting among the leading parts assigned were Anne of Austria, Mrs. William Thornton White; Mme. Pompadour, Mrs. Mabel Gump, San Francisco; Empress Josephine, Mrs. Percy Walker; in the Spanish episode, Mrs. Joseph Keller; in the Italian, Mrs. Arthur Tashler; the Victorian era, Mrs. Joseph Russell Knowland; Mary, Queen of Scots, Mrs. Ernest King Tenner; Empire, Mrs. Joseph Carleton; Colonial period, Mrs. Everett Brown, Mrs. Fred Stolt and Mrs. Minna McGauley. A dozen or more others are yet to be assigned.

Among the dancers selected at today's meeting were Mrs. Lloyd Roberts, Virginia and Alice Marvin and Selma McDonnell.

Civilian Soldier Training Planned
Plans for the military training of civilians in the Ninth Corps area next summer have been completed, it was announced today. The training period is expected to open in July and will continue thirty days. This date was selected in order to enable college students to take the training without interfering with studies.

The camp at the Presidio will be composed entirely of young men from California. Other citizens' military training camps in the Ninth Army corps will be put into operation at the same time. The personnel to be drawn from other states.

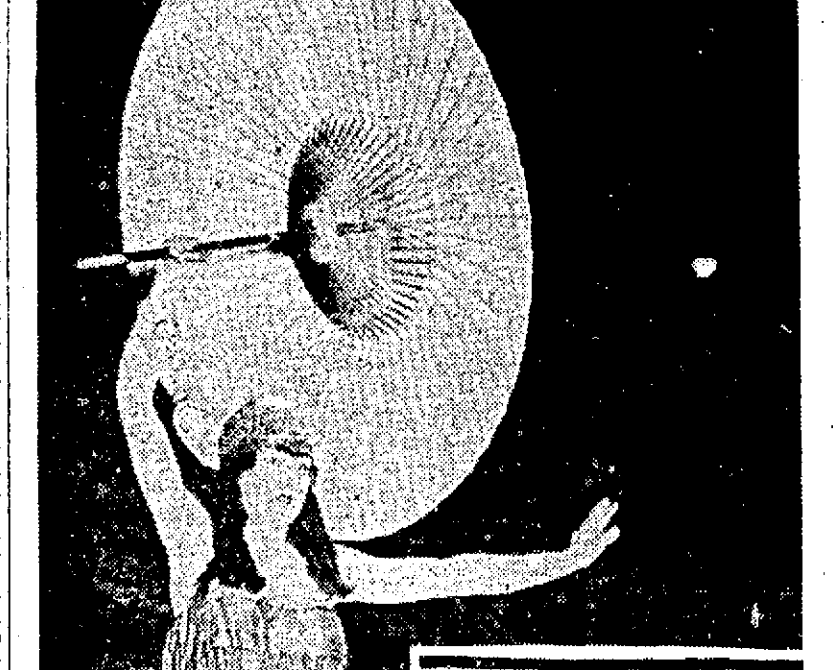

U. S. Pays Million Day to Disabled Men
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(By International News Service.)—The United States is spending $1,000,000 in cash every day in payments to disabled ex-service men and their dependents. Colonel Charles S. Ford, director of the veterans' bureau, declared today in an address before a convention of veterans here today.

P. G. & E. Engineer On Witness Stand
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—L. F. Emerson, Hoar, consulting engineer of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, was the principal witness today at the rate adjustment hearing of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company before the Rate Adjustment Board. These have been in progress for months.

Hoar was examined in detail as to the water rights of the corporation. Te cross-questioning on behalf of the municipalities of Northern California was conducted by Assistant City Attorney John J. Bailey of San Francisco.

Will Duplicate Blondin's Act

Mlle. Eleanora, a noted English wire walker, is ambitious to duplicate the feat of the daring and world-famous Blondin, who walked a rope across Niagara Falls more than a score of years ago. But Mlle. Eleanora believes in safety first—hence the rope shown in photo, which will save her life in case of a mis-step. She is shown practicing for the event.—Copyright, 1922, by Underwood & Underwood.

NO CHANGE SEEN IN LABOR FIGHT

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—No change was noticeable today in the strike situation here, growing out of the walk-out of 1000 union workers opposed to the inauguration of the American plan by mill and lumber yard owners and building contractors.
The mills and lumber yards were operating with short crews, reporting "a few more men" back at work. Union leaders are still sticking to their statements that the unions will remain on strike until the American plan is definitely abandoned here.
Plans for the holding of the big mass meeting of women in the Labor Temple here tonight have been placed in the hands of the women of the high school and college. The plan is to have a mass meeting, according to their statements today. Speakers who last Friday night addressed the labor mass meeting in the high school and college. The plan is to have a mass meeting, according to their statements today.

Anderson Murder Trial Is Now On

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Charged with the murder of her husband, John Anderson, Mrs. Josephine Anderson was yesterday brought to trial before Superior Judge Michael Roche. Anderson was shot at the family home, 1831 Sutter street, on October 16.

U. C. ARRANGES EXTRA DATES FOR DRAMATICS

BERKELEY, Feb. 1.—Students of this city and the surrounding vicinity yesterday witnessed one of the most beautiful sights ever seen here in the nature of three rainbows visible simultaneously to the east of the city. Although only one of the rainbows completely arched the sky with vividness, the remaining two were quite discernible above and below the first. Not in many years, according to old residents of the valley, has a more radiant beautiful rainbow arched the sky than that which attracted the attention of thousands yesterday.

MERCHANTS NAME SWAN, THOMPSON NEW DIRECTORS

Gov. Stephens Thanked For Branch of Vehicle Commission

Two new directors of the organization took office today and a telegram thanking Governor Stephens for the establishment here of a branch of the state motor vehicle commission was sent to Sacramento as a result of the meeting last night of the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland.
The new directors elected at the meeting are S. B. Swan and Charles F. Thompson.
Advice in writing, together with instructions, was given by a committee to all agents of insurance companies on the Pacific coast that a reduction of 5 per cent on all insurance policies written in California on or after October 12, 1921, be made. The committee consists of Emmett Hart, chairman; W. A. Swales and I. H. Spiro.

Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley spoke on the water and power act. The resolution thanking the governor, follows:
"Whereas, at the request of the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland and other organizations, a branch office of the California Motor Vehicle Commission has been established at Harrison and Fourteenth streets in Oakland, and
"Whereas, this branch is being operated in very efficient manner and is saving both time and expense to the residents of the cities east of the bay of San Francisco, therefore be it

Packer Employees Vote on Strike End

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Packing house workers throughout the country are voting today on the question of ending the strike which started in fourteen packing centers December 5, 1921.
International headquarters of the Union here last night telegraphed to local unions, advising that the strike be called off and that the strikers seek their old positions.
The strike was marked by rioting and bloodshed in several cities. At Oakland, City a negro strikebreaker was lynched and seven men who pleaded guilty to the crime have been sentenced to life imprisonment. Union officials asserted that the height of the strike started in 14,000 men were idle and the plants were seriously handicapped.

Kohler Held On Forgery Charge

Fred Kohler is being held for investigation by the police on a charge of forgery. He was arrested at the home of W. J. Hughes by Mrs. G. A. Lengyel, who resides at 1433 East Thirty-eighth street with her sister. According to her statement, made to the police several days ago, she gave Kohler a letter to mail which contained a check for $100. The police allege that he opened the letter and put in a forged check. With the original check, the police say, he operated a savings account in a bank.

Police Search For Slayer of L. A. Man

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Police are searching today for the slayers of Jack Kuderich, 40, found with a bullet through his heart in his East Ninth street home last night.

Building Trades Will Convene March 20

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The State Building Trades Council will hold its annual convention here during the week beginning March 20. A new platform will be adopted, and a new group of officials elected, it is believed.
F. H. McCarthy, who was formerly president of the San Francisco Building Trades Council, will preside at the convention. He is still executive head of the state organization. In connection with the candidacy for secretary of the organization, Frank Macdonald has been mentioned. He is business agent of the local trades council.

False Arrest Suit Is On Trial in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Max Stein is defendant before Superior Judge Michael Roche today in an action to recover $51,020, brought by Mrs. Rosie Miller, proprietor of an Oakland lodging house, charging false arrest and imprisonment. According to her claim, her son was taken for being taken into custody on October 8, 1918, on a charge of passing a fictitious check. Subsequently she was acquitted.

"If you saw a full-grown human hammer, a defenseless horse, or even a dog, you would promptly call the humane society headquarters," said Geraldine in her Sunday's "True UN" column. MY FAVORITE STORIES

by IRVIN S. COBB

The Tools Were Lacking.

Two traveling men sat at breakfast in the dining-room of a South Carolina mill town. To them came a polite negro, soliciting their orders.

Said the first:

"Bring me grape fruit, coffee with hot milk, corn muffins, bacon and eggs."

"Yassuh, I got you," confirmed the waiter. He addressed the second patron:

"What's yourn goin' be, Cap'n?"

"I'll take the same as my friend here, except that the eggs should be eliminated."

At the sound of that last, mysterious word the darky stiffened.

"Scuse me, suh—how'd you say you wanted 'em aigs?" he asked.

The white man caught the point. He was by way of being something of a practical joker, anyhow. He raised his voice slightly for added emphasis:

"I said I wanted them eliminated."

The waiter blinked hard but recovered gallantly.

"Yassuh," he said, and departed straightway for the kitchen. Almost immediately there floated in through the swinging doors which separated kitchen from dining-room a medley of sounds betokening a violent debate between two persons of African antecedents. And then on the heels of this the waiter reappeared, perspiring freely, and returned to where the two white men sat.

"Cap'n," he said, "wouldn't you des ez soon have yore aigs fried? Or, inebba scrambled? We also meks a mouty tasty om'let yere. Folks w'ch tries our om'lets speaks mos' highly of 'em. Or I mout—"

The joker broke in on him:

"Say, boy," he demanded, "what's the matter with you? I gave you my order once—told you I wanted my eggs eliminated. Now, I'm on a diet. Under the doctor's orders I must always have my eggs eliminated. And I'm going to have them that way here or else some nigger's going to be looking for a job. I'll complain to the manager."

"Faint my fault, suh," pleaded the waiter. "Hit's de cook. I tells him 'em ez plain, I sez, 'Eliminate a couple of fresh aigs fur a Nawthe'n genelman,' I says, an' 'en he starts argufyin'. An' he tell me to come on back yere an' suggest to you—"

"Never mind that," snapped the humorist, now seemingly in a highly indignant state. "You go tell that cook that I want him to fill my order according to instructions or there'll be trouble."

Once more the waiter sped away. Half a minute later he came through the swinging doors. With him was a large, plump, coal black person in a greasy apron, and with a look of grave concern upon his face.

"What's de genelman?" asked the newcomer.

"That he set," said the waiter, pointing.

The cook presented himself at the table where the traveling men sat and bowed low.

"Boss," he said, "Ise de cook yere an' I strives to please. But you'll please, suh, haf to excuse me regardin' yore desires 'is mawin' fur 'eliminated aigs'—that's a fact."

"Don't you know how to eliminate an egg?" demanded the joker.

The cook favored him with a winning smile.

"Who, me?—why to be sittin' 'ere, I does. Any other time dem 'eliminated aigs' be settin' right dar in front of you now, smokin' hot. But to tell you de truth, boss, dey was a figgy nigger gals come foollin' round de kitchen yistiday w'ch she rightly didn't have no business to be there neither; an' she drapped de eliminator and bruk de handle off of it."

MOVING PICTURE OF YOUNG COUPLE IN FURNITURE STORE

Enter store and stand around timidly. Five salesmen come at them from five different directions. Veteran salesman wins. Spots them immediately as newly married. Tactfully asks them what they would like to see first. They don't know, using a large number of words to say so. Salesman takes them to Kitchenware Department. Young woman immediately fascinated by shining ware. Lingers lovingly over skillets and stew pans. Young man frankly bored. Wanders over to large upholstered chair and sinks into it up to his ears.

Young lady spies dining room set. Long argument with salesman over relative merits of square and round tables.

Young man tries out three or four more deeply upholstered chairs.

Young lady calls young man to her assistance.

Young man more interested in a square meal than a square table.

Young lady picks furniture for living room.

Picks twice as many pieces as they need.

Each piece three times as large as it should be.

Salesman: You Haven't Selected Your Bedroom Suite, Have You?

Couple terribly fussed.

Young lady blushes rosy red.

Young man's ears get hot and he looks at the ceiling.

Veteran salesman gently steers them over to bedroom furniture section.

Diplomatic conversation ensues.

Couple finally buy expensive suite rather than prolong the agony.

Couple buy lots of unnecessary things to cut short the embarrassment.

Young man goes out of store wondering how he is going to pay for it all.

COUNCIL HEARS
PRELIMINARY PLAN
TO OPEN STREETCity Budgets to Be Tapped to Get Money to End Unemployment Situation.

The city council this morning gave first reading to an ordinance appropriating an additional $500 for the municipal woodyard fund for unemployed men, and agreed to dip into the various city budgets to find an extra money to assist the unemployed.

Commissioner Carter announced that the harbor fund will furnish $2500. Commissioner Colbourn promised to look into the police, fire, and health funds. Commissioner Edwards the finance department budget.

Edwards, who has attacked the $25,000 appropriation for the purchase of land for a museum for the Snow game collection, suggested that this be rescinded. Carter, however, asserted that the city gains a $1,000,000 collection for the museum and the rescinding was discussed no further.

CHARITIES REPORT.
Miss Elizabeth Skeele, head of the Associated Charities, was the principal speaker at the Business and Professional Women club meeting at 1291 Broadway today.

The meeting was called to discuss ways and means for cooperating with the citizens' emergency employment and relief committee in handling the unemployment situation.

Miss Skeele gave a detailed account of the work already accomplished by the committee and gave a graphic description of conditions existing in the city.

The Associated Charities are swamped with work, according to the social worker, and there is need for a large sum of money to carry on the relief work.

"Due to the present crisis, we have exhausted our regular fund," said Miss Skeele, "and in addition to that have used up the reserve fund."

APPEAL IS MADE.
"We are now making an appeal for money to carry on the relief work. We are simply caring for those who are destitute through inability to secure work."

The main committee issued a statement today on general conditions in the city.

"There are approximately 1400 men of family registered at the woodyard," the report read. "This affects about 7000 people."

"When it is realized that such a small portion of Oakland's 216,000 people is affected the problem of finding the unemployed over this period does not seem a herculean task."

"Relief conditions will begin to improve, and it is not desirable to send these families away to other cities who are not as fortunate as we are."

"In every instance these are citizens of Oakland, and in a great many instances are buying homes on the installment plan, and as an economic proposition it would be unwise to lose them as citizens because they find themselves victims of circumstances."

OAKLAND RELIEF.
"In carrying out this relief work the executive committee has made it an iron-bound rule to give relief only to citizens of Oakland, and work has been sent broader to unemployed in other cities that this is the rule."

"Oakland is not different from other cities in having its unemployment problems at this time, but has attracted considerable attention on the outside by reason of the fact that she was aggressive in taking up this question in an efficient way."

"The work has been so effective that other cities are following Oakland's lead."

"One of the recent offers of help to the unemployed came to the citizens' committee from the Elkton Soap company of this city, through its manager, L. C. Brinkmeyer."

"This company has offered to provide transportation to heads of families desiring work as canvassers for the commodity. They will be furnished the soap at wholesale prices and can sell it at the regular retail price."

Announcement has also been made by the committee that two dances are to be held for the benefit of the unemployed in the Eastbay district this month.

The first will be under the auspices

Death and Life
Bring Sorrow and
Joy to Woodyard

Death and life walked hand in hand from the municipal woodyard to the homes of two unemployed today.

Death claimed little May Bigelow, 6, 3318 Octavia street, ill with diphtheria, because the efforts to obtain a nurse had proved futile, according to W. S. Goodrich, superintendent of the woodyard.

Almost at the same time Mrs. R. E. Danforth of the citizens' emergency employment and relief committee was breaking all speed records to the county hospital with Mrs. Rose Truett who collapsed while seeking help. Now there is a little Rose, and both mother and daughter are well, according to the hospital.

NURSE IMPOSSIBLE.
"The little Bigelow girl is the daughter of Dan Bigelow," said Goodrich. "He has been working intermittently for some time and his family is almost destitute. The child was seized with the disease and Dr. L. H. Arons was called. He administered the anti-toxin and suggested a nurse."

"Unable to pay for a nurse's services an appeal was made here. Even with the assistance of the health department and not possible to secure a nurse and the child is dead because the doctor couldn't watch the heart action."

"While we were endeavoring to get aid to the Bigelows a man rushed into the office with the news that a woman standing in line at the window had fainted. We found that she was an expectant mother and had come to us for food and aid. She was destitute and her husband out of work."

BABY BORN.
"Fortunately Mrs. Danforth happened to be there and took her to the county hospital, where the baby was born. Singularly the baby is reported as a healthy specimen and devoid of her troubles. The mother is doing nicely."

The unemployed registered at the municipal woodyard do not represent building trades mechanics, according to William E. Hague of the Builders' Exchange, who has just completed a survey for the Chamber of Commerce.

"The number of idle men is limited to a few in each craft," said Hague. "The rainy weather increased this number somewhat, but conditions generally have been found healthy."

"From June to December the Builders' Exchange employment bureau registered 3725 applicants for employment and furnished 3049 of this number with work."

ARGUMENT ON AUTO LICENSES
NOT YET ENDED

That argument between the city street department and the State Motor Vehicle Department is not over yet. This time it is about 100 licenses for city automobiles, the plates for which just arrived. But they arrived in the office of Commissioner Edwards, who is not the head of the street department, but was, in past days, all licenses were made out to "W. H. Edwards, commissioner of streets." This year, however, W. J. Bacus is commissioner of streets, and Edwards handles the finance department, but Edwards got the plates today and street department officials fear that the labels, when they arrived, may be made out in his name, which will be highly improper.

Street department officials cannot say whether the licenses will go back or not.

"We have waited a long time for those 100 licenses," says Jack McNiece, executive secretary for the street department. "If they arrive wrongly made out, however, we may have to send them back."

Previously the State Department had claimed that the applications for those 100 licenses were not made out properly, and a long wrangle ensued.

of the Hawthorne Parent-Teachers' Association, at the Fruitvale Woodman hall, on next Friday.

The second is scheduled for the Hotel Claremont on Friday evening, February 10. The ticket-selling campaign for this dance is now under way.

COUNTESS PLANS
PSYCHIC PUNCH
IN FILM PLAYS

Martiana Wentworth de Lowe to Become Oakland Producer.

Love, romance, the emotions and impulses of humanity, are splendid themes for moving pictures, but what is the matter with plain, everyday psychology? Why is it the average moving picture producer does not possess enough psychology to know the dramatic possibilities of a "psychological film?"

The Countess Martiana Wentworth de Lowe wants to know. And she says she is going to find out.

Countess de Lowe was in Oakland today in connection with her announced intention of using her fortune to make possible the production of moving pictures that will possess a "constructive, psychic punch."

YOUNG AND ATTRACTIVE.
The countess is young and attractive. She claims kinship with the nobility of Great Britain and Spain. She was born in India twenty-two years ago. Her father, she says, was the late Lord Wentworth, Bart.

The countess has traveled extensively in Europe, the Orient and Asia, and professes a liking for outdoor sports, particularly golf and the driving of high-power automobiles. She is living temporarily in Hillsborough, San Francisco's fashionable and frequently-mentioned suburb.

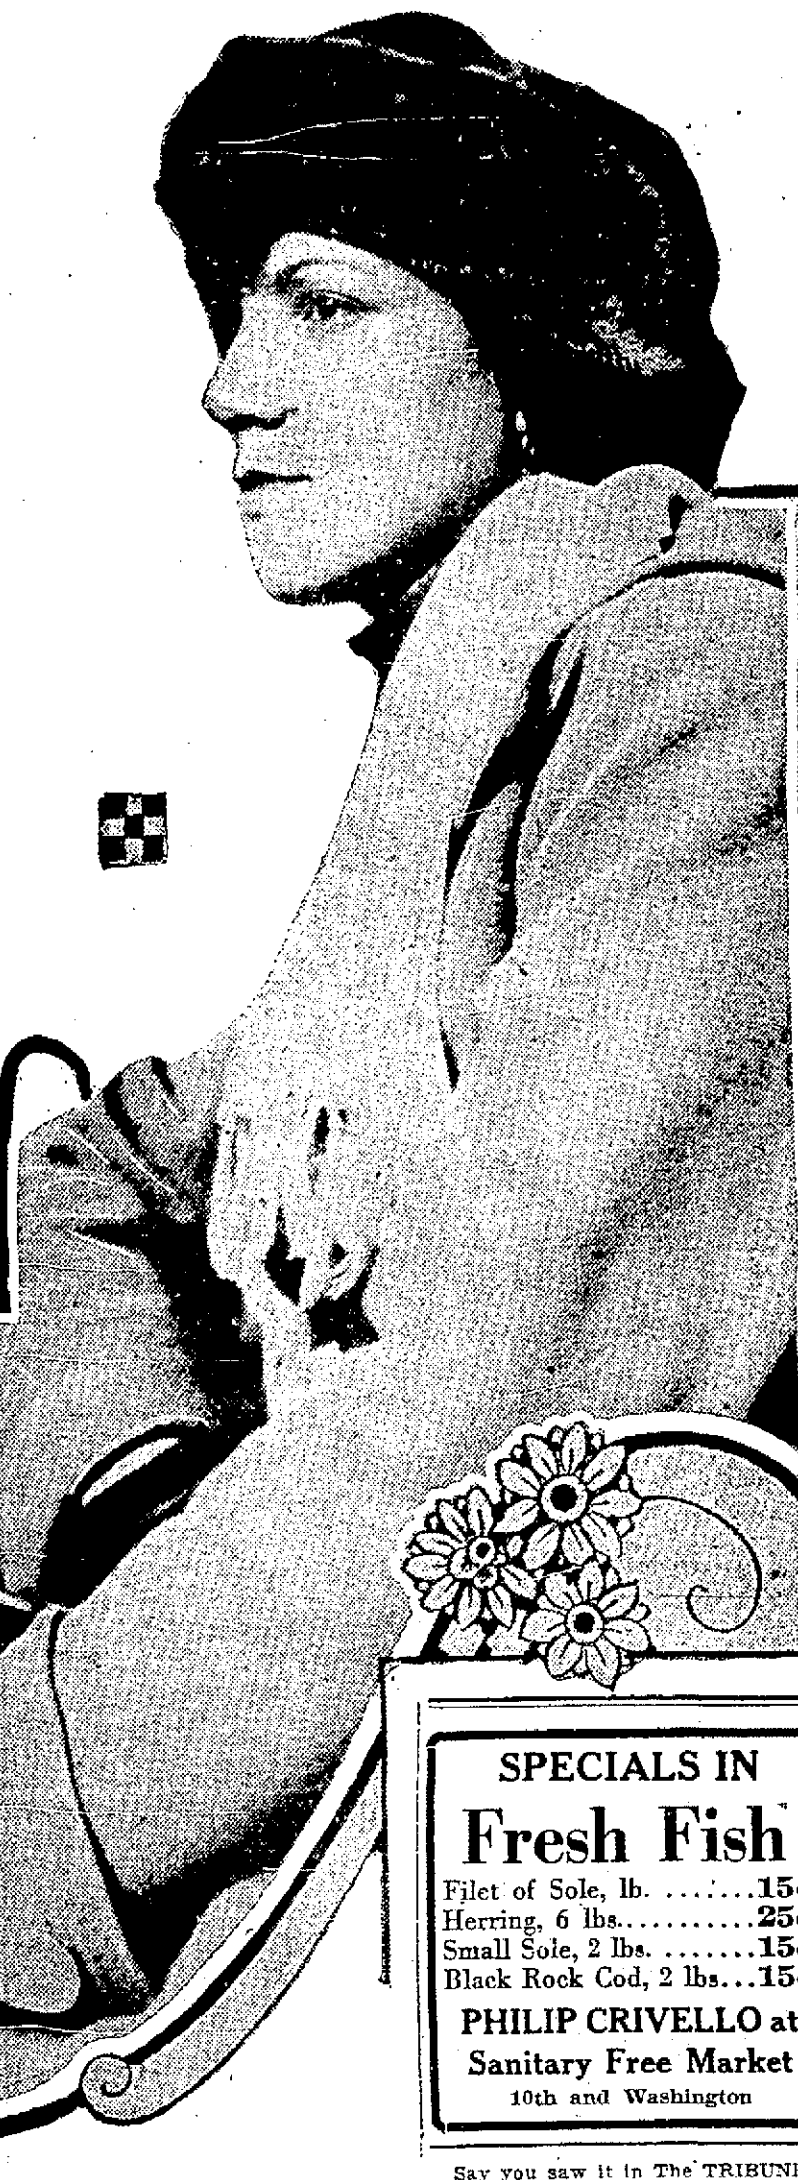

According to Countess de Lowe too much emphasis is placed, nowadays, on the movie star and not the movie plot. A fair face and a reputation, she believes, counts more with the theater-going public than a good tale adorned with a moral.

PSYCHOLOGY NEGLECTED.
She said: "I believe the average moving picture producer is neglecting a splendid opportunity of using psychology as the theme for his films; the only thing that counts is the 'star' or the 'star cast'; the plot is a secondary matter."

"I believe that film plays based on psychological subjects will be appreciated by the discriminating public."

Wants New Film Theme

Countess Martiana Wentworth de Lowe, in Oakland today in connection with her announced intention of producing moving pictures based on psychology. She says it can be done. She is going to invest her fortune in the venture. She plans ultimately to produce her films in a studio located in this city. She will "star" the principal roles.

PLANS MADE FOR SIX BUILDINGS IN BUSINESS SECTION

$10,000,000 Estimated Cost of Construction of Proposed Edifices.

The Builders' Exchange of Alameda county announced today that architects are at work on the plans for six new buildings to be located along Broadway between the downtown business section and Twenty-first street. According to the announcement, no mention of the buildings being planned has heretofore been made. The announcement states that the identity of the builders can not be given to the public at this time.

$10,000,000 TOTAL.
An additional announcement is to the effect that buildings being planned for Oakland, of which no mention has as yet been made, are estimated at a total cost of approximately $10,000,000. The figures are arrived at, according to W. E. Whalin, president of the exchange, by the requests for estimates made of the members of the exchange. Announcements of the various projects now contemplated must come from the promoters themselves. Whalin says:

"We are not at liberty to divulge these projects. We secure our information through the application for bids and could not give out the details of the buildings now planned without the consent of the promoters."

The report of the exchange shows that during the month of December 7068 building permits were issued, and the total contracts let during the month shows that the cost of the projects for which the contracts were let total $15,791,616.

SPEAK OF EMPLOYMENT.
Speaking on the employment situation Whalin said today: "The new wage scale handed down by the wage board and put into effect on January 1, is now in general effect in Alameda county and little or no opposition has been received from the mechanics interested. It was generally realized by the contractors and mechanics that some further slight reductions in wages were advisable in order to reduce the cost of building great building activity."

Accused Man Asks
Freedom to Fight
For Infant Child

With tears in his eyes, Roy T. Taylor made a plea today before Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell to have a felony charge against him dismissed in order that he could fight for the custody of his two and a half-year-old baby.

Taylor was charged with driving an automobile without the consent of the owner. His case was to come up for decision this morning. Judge Tyrrell continued the case until Tuesday. On Monday the case for the custody of the child, which has been instigated by his mother-in-law and father-in-law, will be heard in the Superior Court.

In making his plea to the court, Taylor said:

"For several months I have been having trouble with my wife's relatives. Since her death a month ago they have tried to get my little baby. The baby is all that I have left. I want to fight for her with a clean record. The night I was in the automobile I was not myself. I had been drinking."

Taylor was arrested by Sergeant E. W. Brock on January 17 at Eleventh and Franklin streets. At the time of his arrest he had a revolver in his pocket and has a charge of carrying a concealed weapon against him. Two other men who were arrested with him were released.

and promote building activity, thus giving steady employment to the building trades.

"I believe the city of Oakland and the county of Alameda is on the eve of a period of building activity never before equaled and the selection of this county as a factory site by the many large eastern manufacturers now planning to locate here, is an important factor in creating this order to reduce the cost of building great building activity."

COLBOURN ORDER
PROHIBITS POLICE
GATHERING FUNDS

Former Rule Made More
Stringent by New Wording.

Rule 169, of the Oakland Police Department, prohibiting policemen from "passing the hat" for any defense fund, is made more stringent by a new version ordered inserted into the police department regulations today by Commissioner Frank Colbourn.

The newly worded rule says: "Members of the police department are prohibited, directly or indirectly, from collecting or contributing to the collection of any money or funds for fellow officers or divisions, or participating in any benefit to raise funds to be so used."

This does not apply to floral pieces at funerals, or benefits for injured men. The amended rule forbids the collection of money to employ attorneys or assist in legal battles before the civil service board.

"Of recent months there have been all sorts of charges, rumors and innuendoes about defense funds and attorneys' funds in these various police cases which have come up," says Colbourn. "The thing has become a near-randal. It has been worked to death. After this there will be no more police collections for defense funds. That will end 'at service of scandal.'"

FUGITIVE GIRLS SOUGHT.
The police were requested today to search for three girls who escaped from the California School for Girls at Ventura on December 18. The missing girls are Irene Streeter, 212 Twelfth street, this city; Evelyn Whipple, 522 H street, Fresno, and Marjorie Lee, 801 F street, San Diego, all 20 years old. The report was made by Mrs. F. M. Moore of 5419 California street, San Francisco.

CASH REGISTER ROBBED.
F. T. Ryan, an employee of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company, 675 Fourteenth street, reported to the police that $75 in currency was stolen from the cash register. The theft was not discovered until late yesterday.
